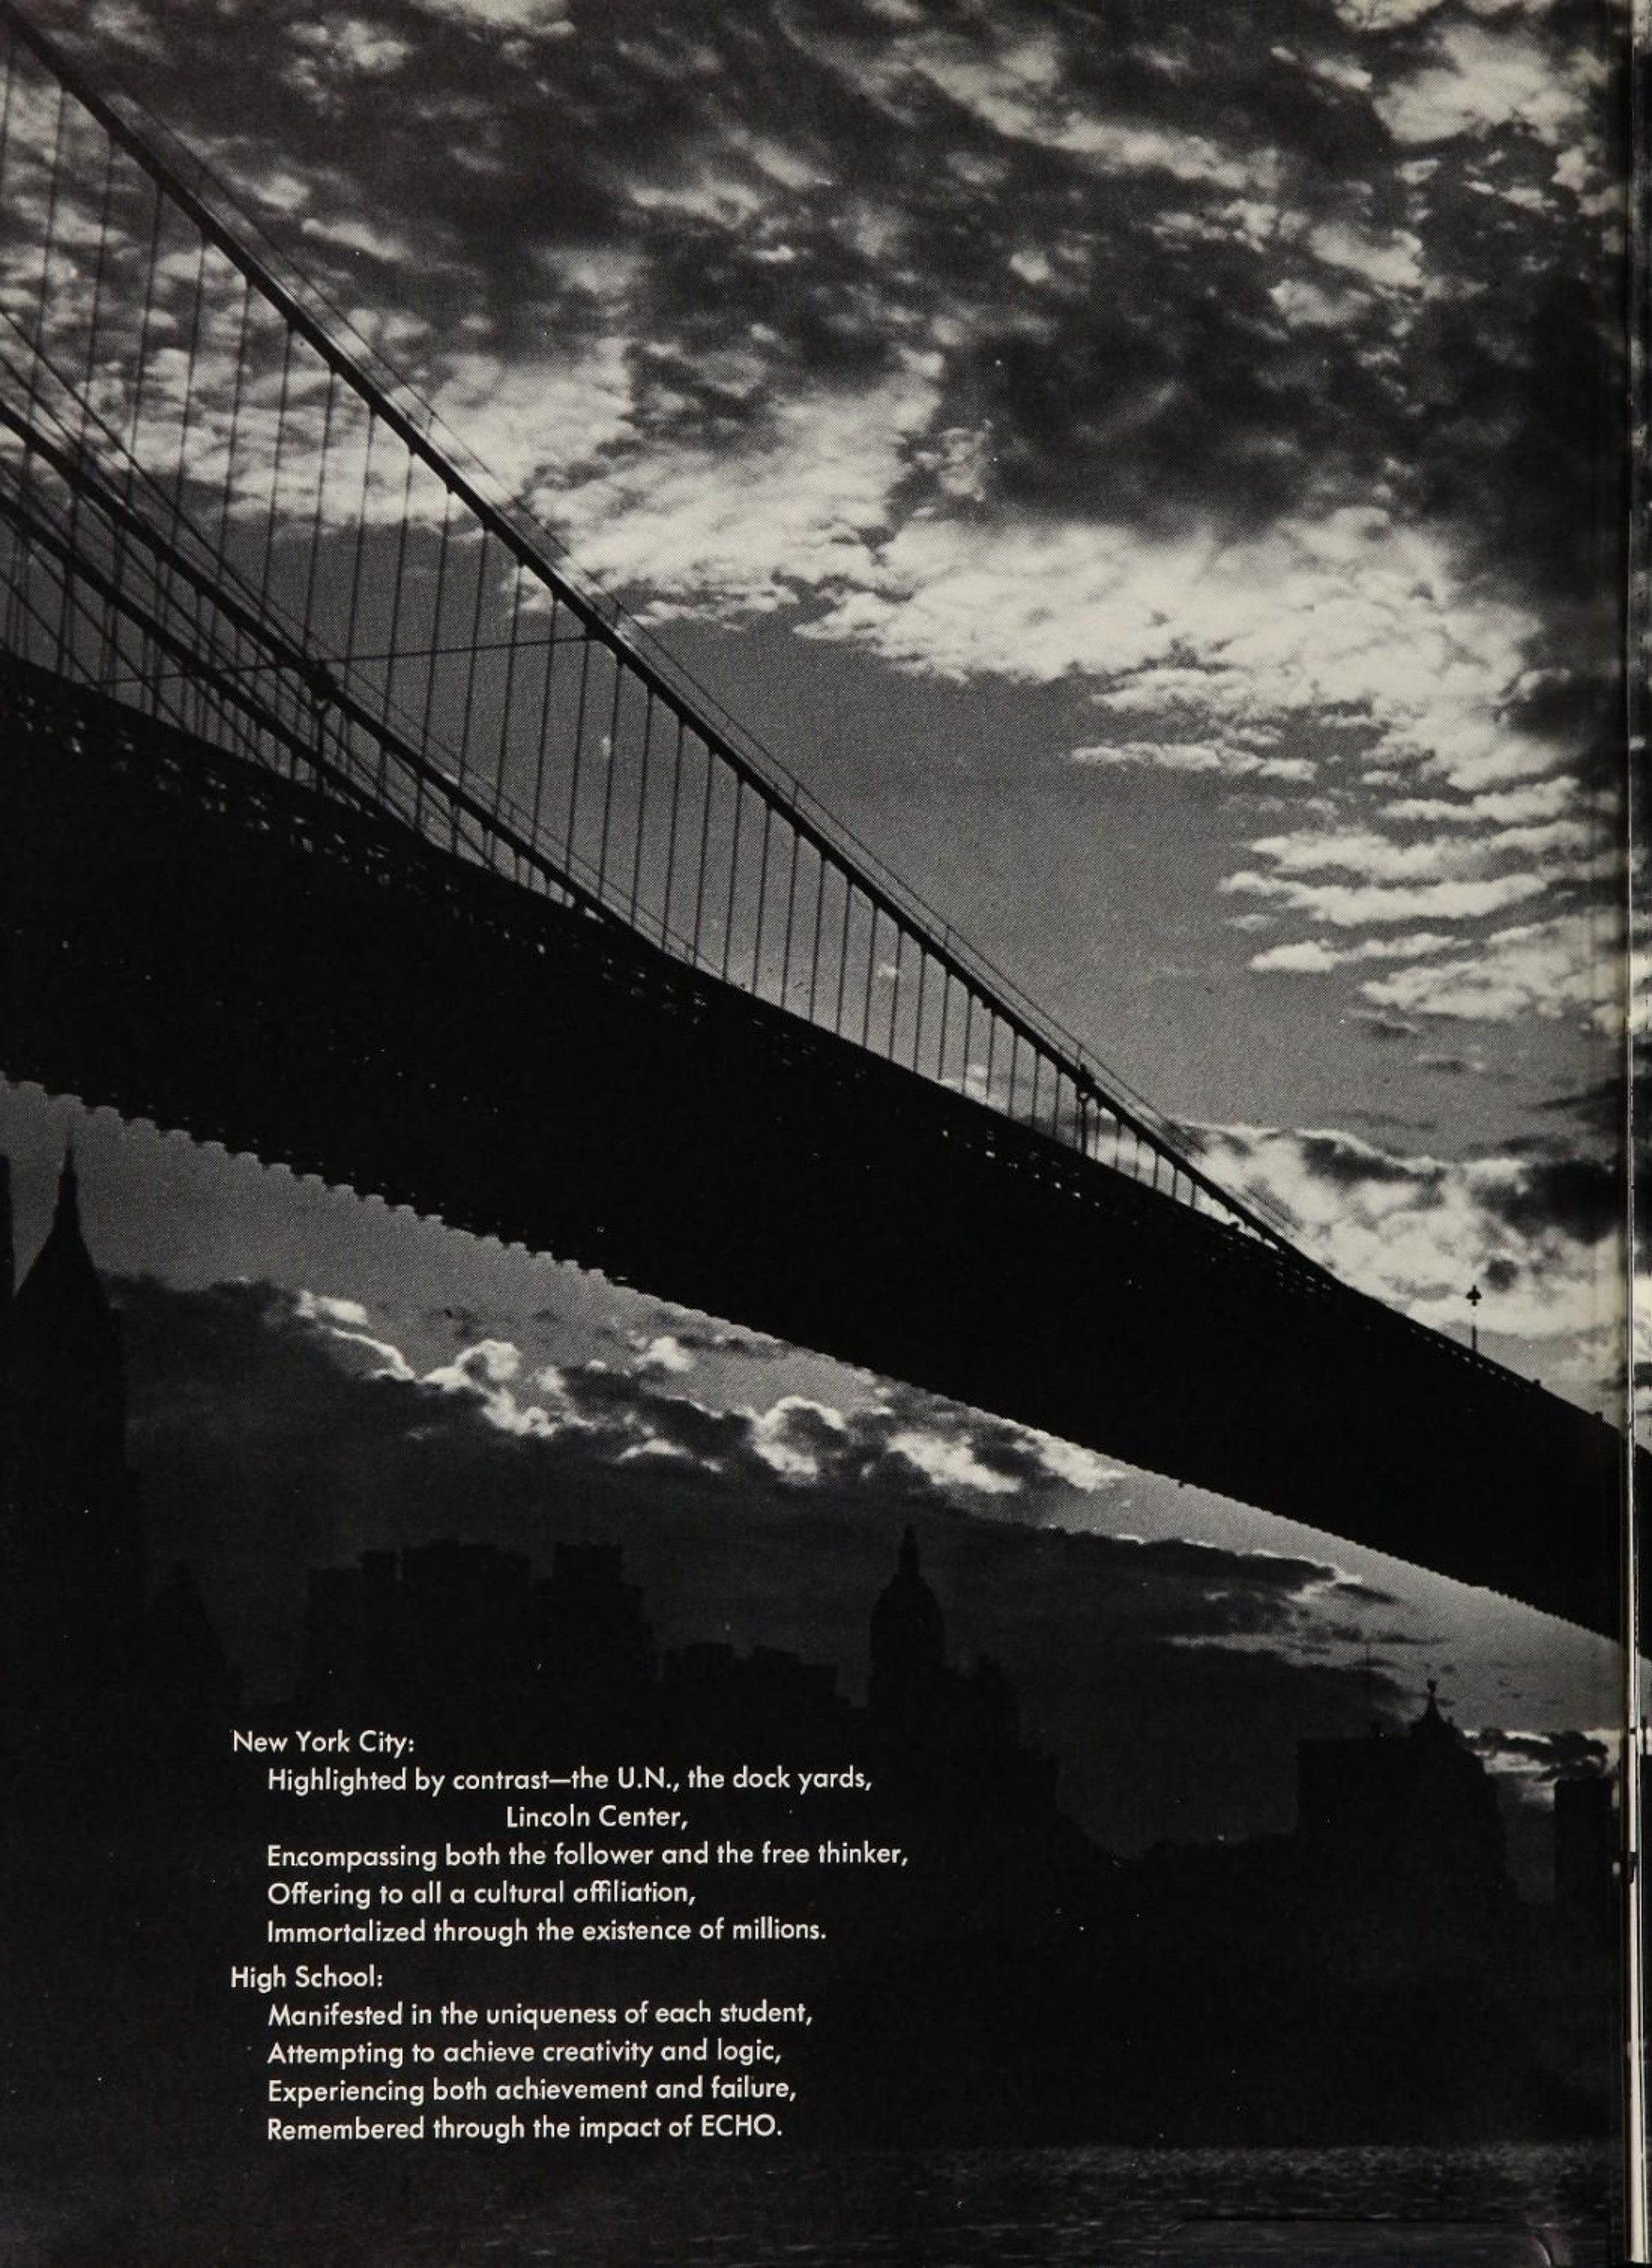
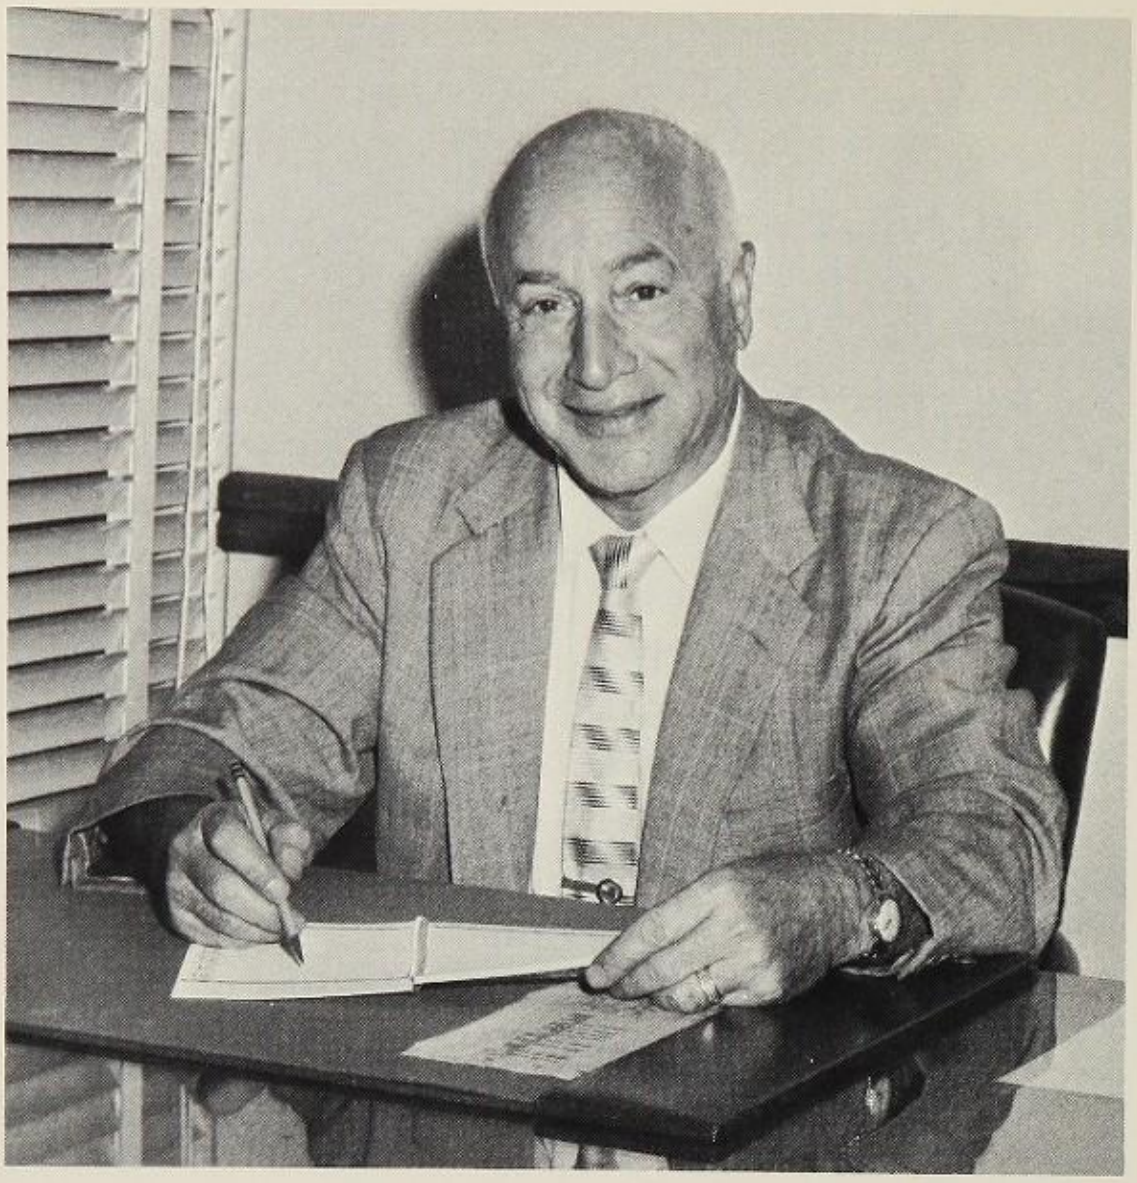
LONG BEACH HIGH SCHOOL

LONG BEACH, NEW YORK



New York City:
Highlighted by contrast—the U.N., the dock yards,
Lincoln Center,
Encompassing both the follower and the free thinker,
Offering to all a cultural affiliation,
Immortalized through the existence of millions.

High School:
Manifested in the uniqueness of each student,
Attempting to achieve creativity and logic,
Experiencing both achievement and failure,
Remembered through the impact of ECHO.



Joseph S. Borzilleri

DEDICATION

Dear Mr. Borzilleri,

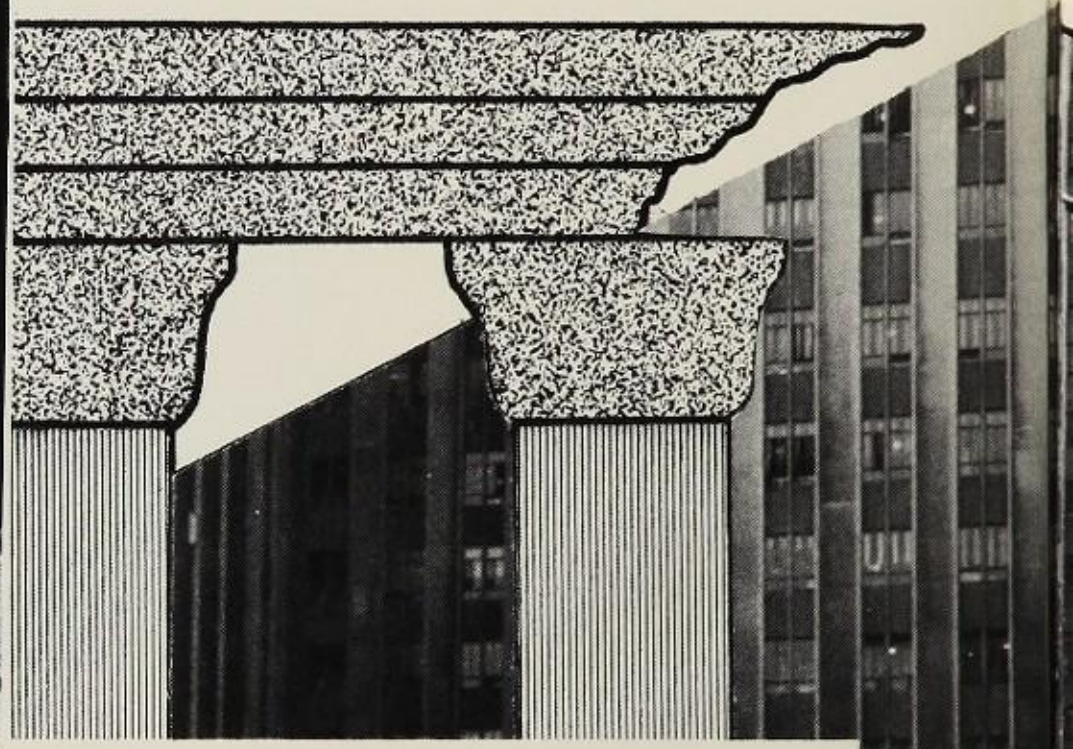
For twenty years, you have watched students enter upon the threshold of Long Beach High School to begin their studies. For twenty years, you have witnessed their graduation and departure. During these invaluable years you have been their guiding light, the backbone of their functions, the man who was always ready with a friendly word of advice. Now, we, the class of 1964, approach the time for departure into a world where each must seek his own. As we walk through the doors of Long Beach High School for the last time, you will be with us. As we travel the path to our goals, a memory lingers in our hearts and minds. It is the memory of all the wonderful achievements you have fostered; it is the memory of a man who has dedicated all his energies to benefit the school and the community. We, now, express to you, Mr. Borzilleri, our sincere gratitude for all that you have brought to students, to teachers, and to the entire Long Beach High School.

The Graduating Class of 1964

ADMINISTRATION

With all its complexities, New York City functions under its one governing body. So, too, does Long Beach High School need a strong core to guide and to direct, so that we might further explore our natural abilities. This backbone is the administration, to whom we are all greatly indebted and to whom we now formally acknowledge their unfailing aid with sincere appreciation and gratitude.

Dr. Earl F. Soper
Superintendent of Schools



My dear Graduates,

The June 1964 graduates have established creditable records of scholarship in a broad variety of subject fields. It gives me genuine pleasure to extend greetings and best wishes to you, my first graduating class.

I am also sure that Dr. Norman Schwartz feels a special satisfaction since you also represent his first graduating class as principal of the Long Beach High School. We are all grateful to Dr. Schwartz and his competent staff for assistance to each and every student.

Students have participated broadly in many school activities and subjects. The future is bright for so many who will further their education in business, government, and the professions. It is our fervent hope that your quest for learning will continue through the years.

EARL F. SOPER
Superintendent of Schools

Dr. Joseph A. Kuhn
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

To the Graduating Class of 1964:

It is significant that you chose "Highlights of New York City" as the theme of your issue of ECHO, because New York is truly representative of the widening world you, as graduates, now are about to enter.

New York City epitomizes our complex world of changing conditions. Added to the vitality of its industry and the variety of its architecture, museums, libraries, and music centers, are the mixture of cultures and the extraordinary range of poverty and wealth.

To understand a world of such diversity and to be able to live in it with some degree of wisdom and tolerance, we all need to increase our knowledge and grow in understanding, with education that comes not from school alone.

I hope that our fine teachers and our educational program have helped to provide good foundations upon which you can build and shape for yourselves happy and productive lives.

Sincerely,

Dr. Norman Schwartz

Dear Graduates,

Someone in show business once said, "After New York, every town is Bridgeport!" Your Echo theme highlights this feeling, that New York is the town that has it all—the bridges and tunnels, Broadway, the Village, the Stadium, the Garden, the Met, the U.N., the Fair! No one place in this universe vibrates to the same tune of industry and progress, and you who are graduating in Long Beach have felt the effect of these vibrations throughout your school days. We on the faculty know that you people, like the City, will make your contributions to a waiting nation with characteristic boldness and originality.

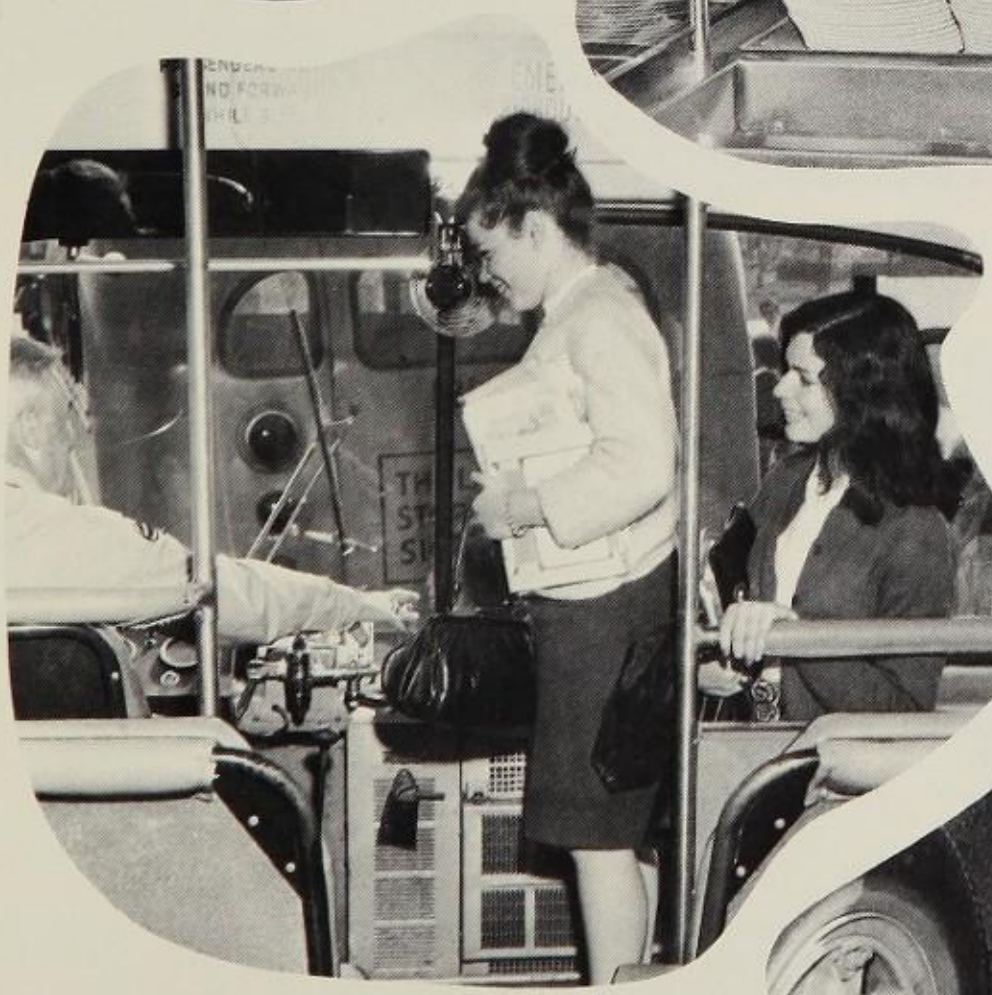
SCHOOL SERVICES



To the editors, ECHO is a sentimental project—to work with, to stay after school with, to live with.
It represents an experience in leadership.
To the staffs, ECHO is extra homework—
to be tackled willingly and with a sense of pride.
It represents the culmination of a year's diligent work.
To all Seniors, ECHO is a package—
to be filled with four fruitful years of high school life.
It represents our own story.

DEPARTMENT

The exhilarating impact of New York is generated by the simultaneous functioning of its many parts. Similarly, the Long Beach High School faculty coordinates and unifies its functions through its departments and department heads. In this way, the school can offer its students a stimulating and colorful curriculum. The diversities of the departments are great, but their goal is a unique and single one—the creation of individuals who will stride the paths of life happily and fruitfully.

ENGLISH

In communications, a wavelength is meaningful only when it is intelligible. In order for language, the wavelength of all mankind, to be intelligible, it must be used articulately and comprehensively. Consequently, the articulate individual is one who is sought after in a countless number of ways by today's highly demanding society. He is the product of many years of copious study under a staff of teachers who have imparted to him what they themselves have acquired over a life time. Fortunately, we here at Long Beach High School have the opportunity to learn many skills from an excellent staff of English teachers who are helping us to prepare for our future. Their teaching now will effect us in ways which are far greater than we can ever imagine.

New York is a summer's festival, a winter's paradise;
it is new buildings soaring,
new technology flourishing,
new art appearing.
New York is the home of progress, and progress is the child of creativity. Fragments, the school's literary magazine, and the Creative Writing Club inspire the students to manifest their inventive qualities. For man can only prove his true worth by transcending his environment through creativity, by equating known entities to form a novel contribution to his advancement.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish." New Yorkers are known for their realization of the truth of this statement. L.B.H.S. also manifests a thirst for news. The Tide, our news media, serves to satisfy this interest, so essential for intelligent survival in our rapidly changing world. This service has been acknowledged by the Tide's membership in Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists.

LIBRARY

New York, with its 42nd Street and Donnell Libraries, acknowledges the invaluable assistance which books provide for man's advancement. In our school, many students learn the importance of using the library to supplement and to aid in their learning experience. However, they must receive guidance in their endeavors in the maize of the library's system. This help is rendered available by the Library Staff, Mr. DiPretore, and Mrs. Hand.

MRS. HAND AND MR. DiPRETORE

Broadway is world famous as a theatrical showplace and is a fitting tribute to drama. It is only through a knowledge of drama, of the theater, and of acting, that Broadway has acquired this title. In our school, the Drama Club serves to acquaint the students with the essentials of drama. Who knows: someday they, too, may contribute to the fame of Broadway.

Lecturers, radio and television announcers, and candidates for public office are all called upon to speak before audiences. Although all of the students enrolled in the Senior Speech classes may not have aspirations of becoming politicians or orators, they do realize the importance of being able to communicate with large groups. Not only do the Senior Speech classes enable the student to maintain a presence and clarity of thought in a formal speech, but also they aid the student in expressing his thoughts on a more intimate level.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Man is born; man is dead.
In between, man spreads his roots and grows.
He evaluates man's past,
Lives man's present,
Creates man's future.

The teachers in the Social Studies Department of L.B.H.S. arouse their students' curiosity to reflect upon and determine their unique purpose in life. Each student learns of the preciousness of democracy, the freedom to make public his innermost beliefs and to discuss with others their validity. Situated on international territory surrounded by New York City, is the world-wide peace organization, the United Nations. Here, small, underdeveloped countries have the same opportunity as the large world powers to express their views on important issues. This is a specific evidence of democracy, the same democracy which is taught in the social studies classroom.

The anatomy of New York City would not be complete if its vast forums and debates were not included. The United Nations is a pulse, the very essence of our existence in the world today. Through the forums and debates of the United Nations, we now have a possibility of preserving freedom and democracy for the millions of Americans and Westerners as yet unborn. Here, people the world over can assemble in a forum and express their views in debate. Students of the Long Beach High School are provided with this opportunity through both the Debating Club and the Forum Club. These two clubs, like the United Nations, have helped and will help the "American Dream" to flourish and to prevail in the future.

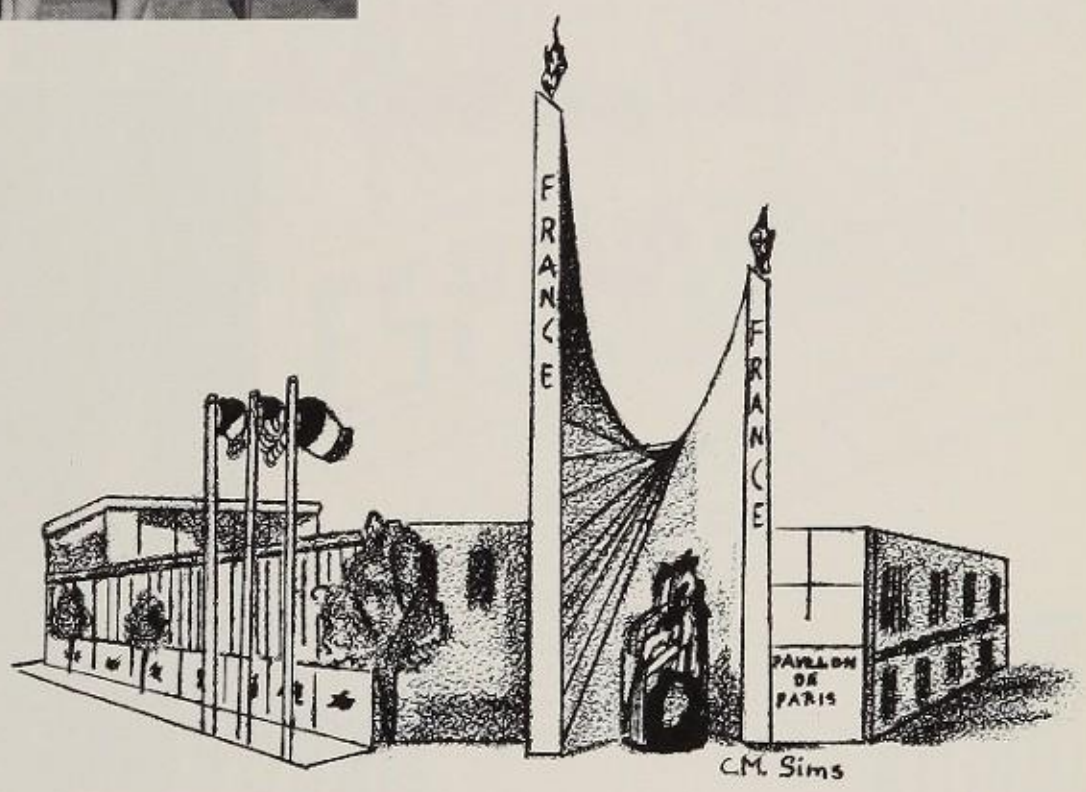
With the arrival of the World's Fair in New York, there is an utmost necessity for having a thread of common lingual understanding. Mindful of the presence of this necessity, not only in New York, but in all lands the world over, the language teachers of Long Beach High School strive to endow their students with a new means of communication, a different basis for understanding those of other countries, a foreign language.

French Honor Society

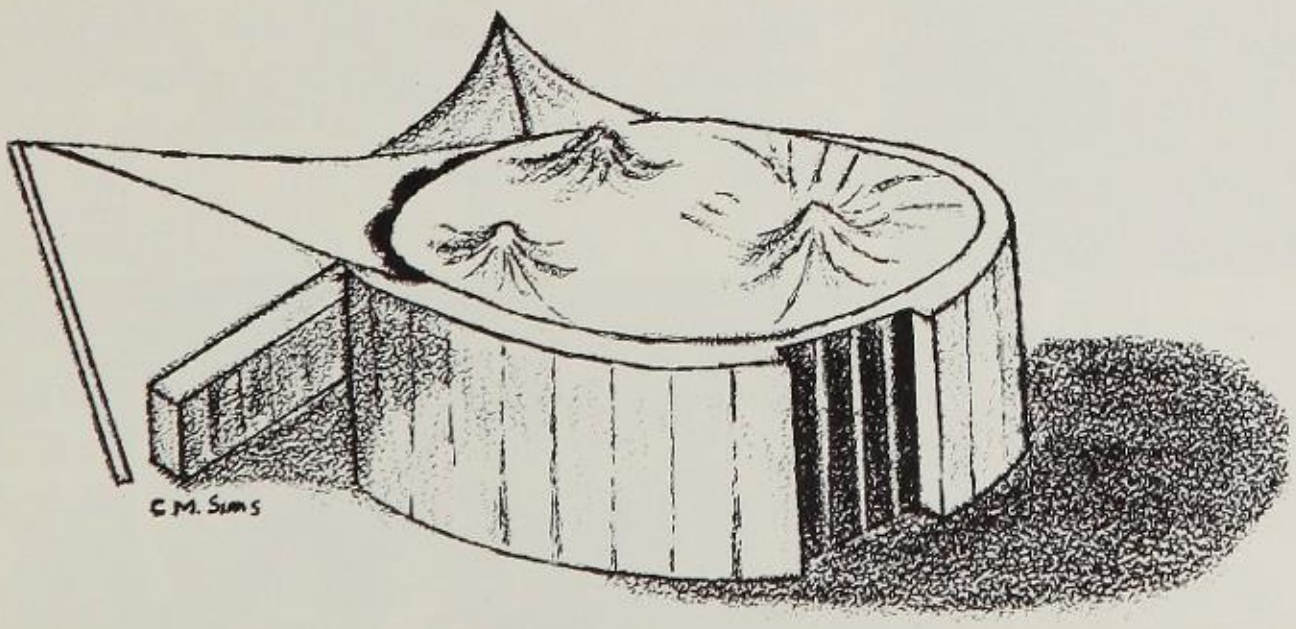
The Statue of Liberty, a French gift to the United States, stands majestically in New York Harbor as a symbol of friendship between these two countries. To perpetuate this bond, many Americans study the French culture. The students of the French Honor Society have demonstrated proficiency in various aspects of French and under the guidance of Dr. Alda Pizzinger, they are striving toward the continuation of the propitious relationship of the past.

FRENCH



While learning a language one can take any of a number of approaches. German, a language that has become increasingly important can be taught and learned in class. But to truly appreciate this language, a student's approach has to be even more serious. The members of the German Honor Society have taken that one extra step that makes German a little less of a foreign language.

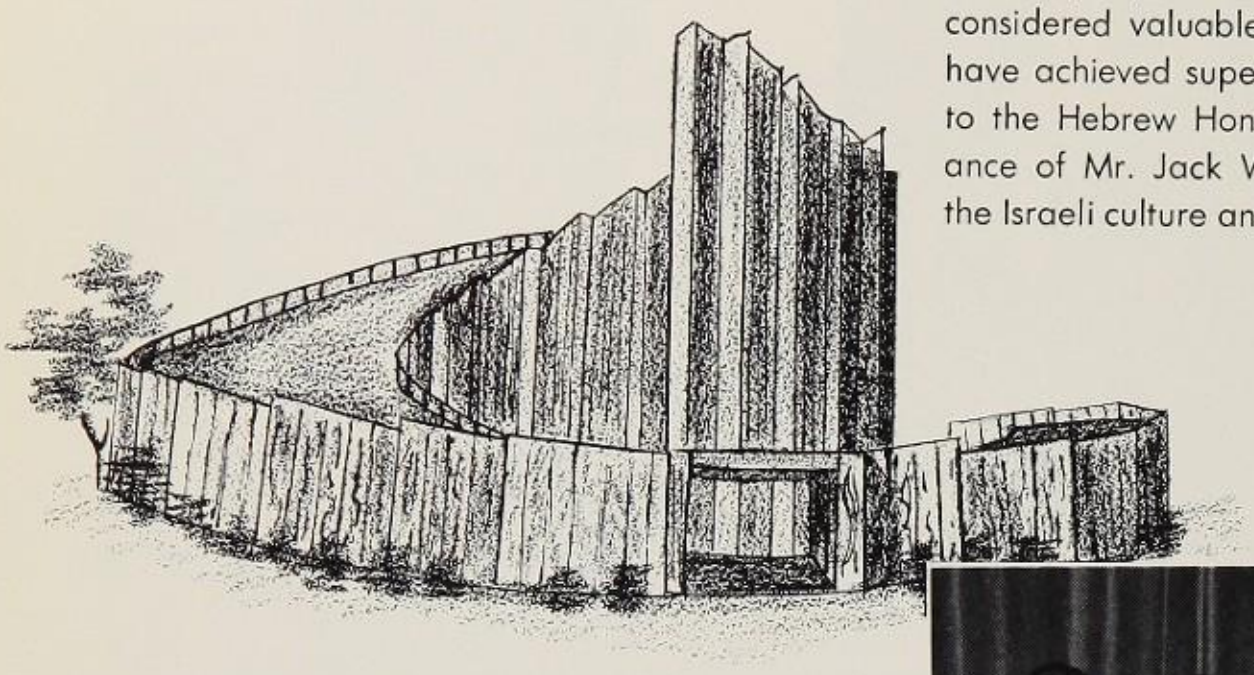
GERMAN



German Honor Society

HEBREW

From the Lower East Side to the Cafe Sabra, one finds people with a common Hebrew heritage. Hebrew, the tongue of an ancient people always ready to face the future, is a language considered valuable by many L.B.H.S. students. Students who have achieved superior merit in this language are inducted into the Hebrew Honor Society, where, under the skillful guidance of Mr. Jack Weinstein, they enjoy learning more about the Israeli culture and people.



Hebrew Honor Society

LATIN

New York City, the modern forum of human activity, reflects our ancient Latin heritage through its diversified inhabitants. Whether it be a Frenchman, Spaniard, Italian, or Englishman, each, through his native tongue, manifests our infinite debt to our Roman forefathers. The recollection of this debt is perpetuated by the Latin Honor Society, composed of students who have exhibited an appreciation and comprehension of this classical language. This organization strives to recall to all the grandeur that was Rome and the principles instilled within us by this civilization, so culturally prolific.

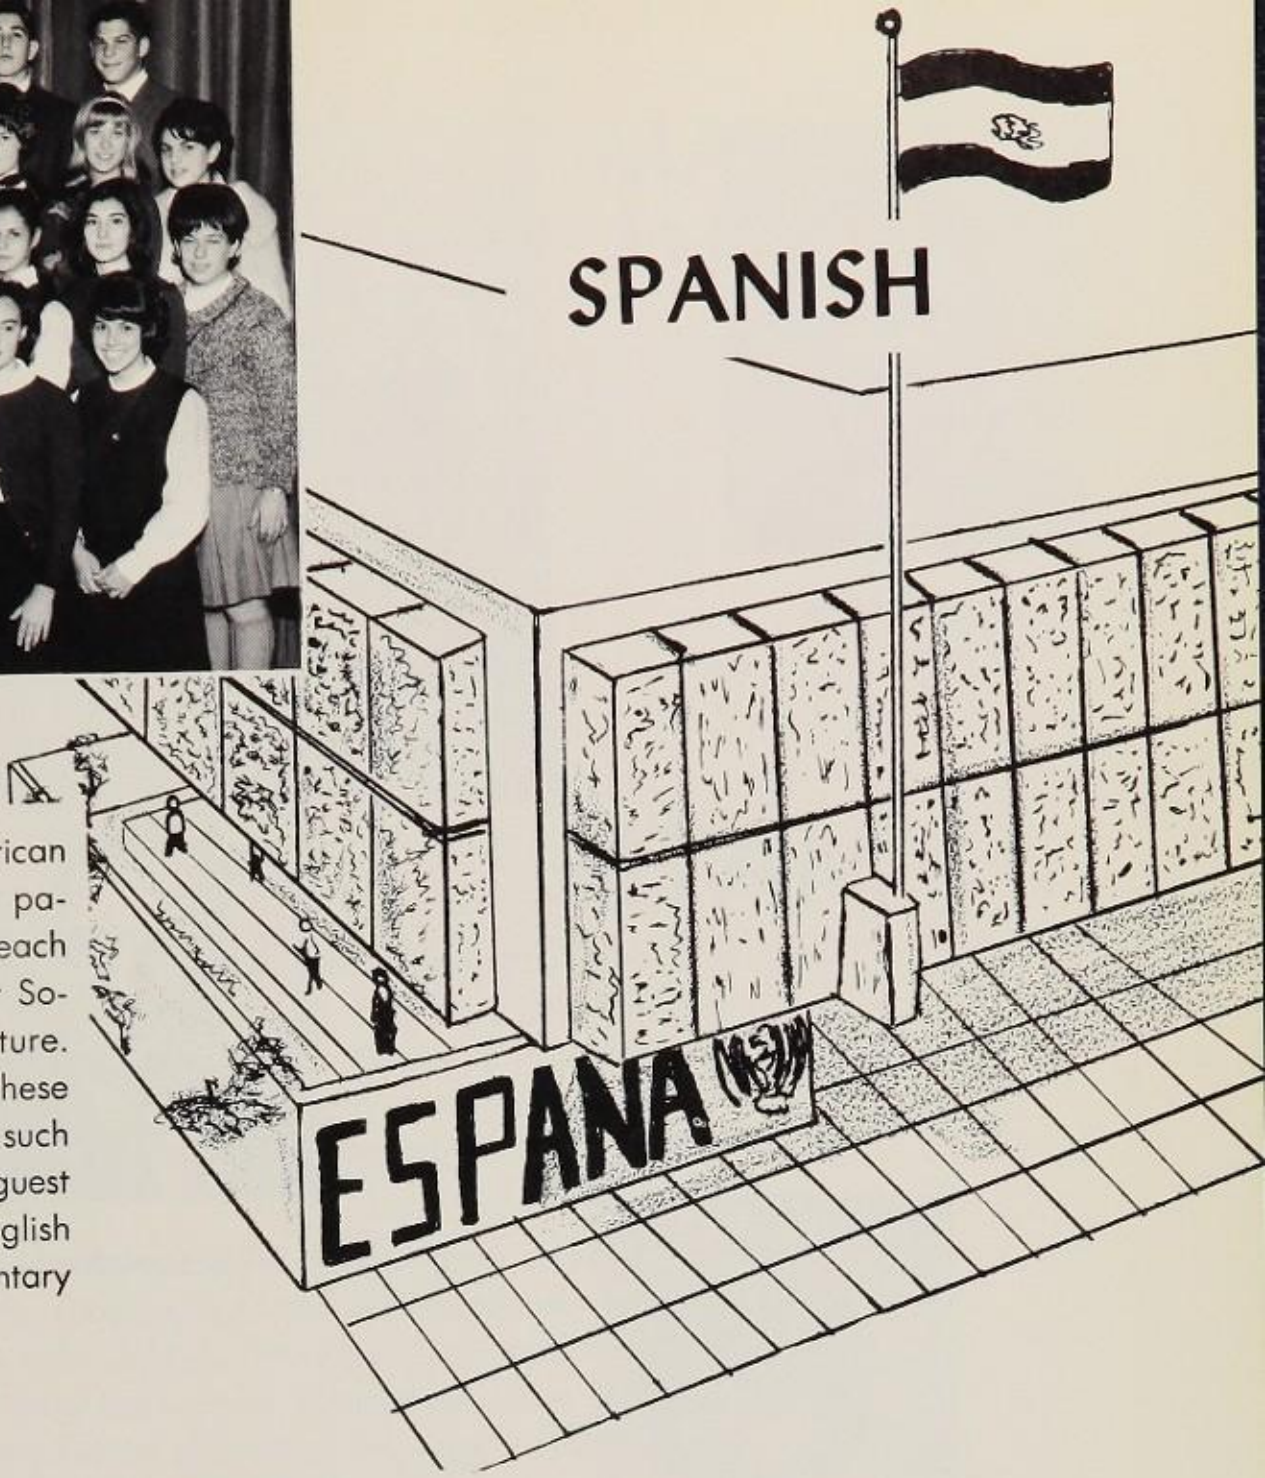
Spanish Honor Society

SPANISH



In 1492, Spain first placed her flag on American soil; again, in 1964, Spain's flag will fly on her pavillion in the New York World's Fair. In Long Beach High School, the students of the Spanish Honor Society have a great interest in the Spanish culture. Under the leadership of Mrs. Edith Santoni, these students have included in their plans this year such activities as showing Spanish films, inviting guest lecturers, and, as a unique project, teaching English to Spanish-speaking students of the elementary school age.

RUSSIAN

Russian Honor Society

Moscow and New York, centers of two of the greatest world powers, are miles apart not only in their geographic locations, but also, more specifically, in their ideologies and cultures. The Russian Honor Society, under the guidance of Miss Konaszewycz, endeavors to narrow this gap by gaining an insight into their way of life. As part of its activities, the society produces short plays and attends Russian films and such performances as the famed Bolshoi Ballet. Through this orientation to the Russian culture, these students may someday be of great aid in establishing stronger bonds with the Soviet Union.

"The whole is equal to the sum of its parts." This mathematical corollary is evidenced in the mathematical knowledge and logic that the students of L.B.H.S. have acquired through extensive training. The engineers who built New York City's skyscrapers needed this same sound foundation in mathematical skills before they attempted to create these great architectural feats. Indeed, the value of transferring the language of numbers to students is becoming increasingly more important in today's complex world.

FINE & INDUSTRIAL ARTS

MR. MICHENFELDER

New York, a sharp-eyed city in the field of art, offers its public stores of wealth in the way of museums and other such cultural centers as well as sidewalk exhibits. Many of the fine art students in LBHS hope to see their own work exhibited in such famous places. Perhaps, after a beginning in our Art Department, some students will fulfill that aspiration. Industrial Arts plays an important role in our society. The architects who planned the Empire State Building, the carpenters who raised the aged mansions, the electronics engineers who aid New York in broadcasting, and the automobile engineers who keep the four wheeled mecca humming, are all vital to the life of the City. With our improved Industrial Arts Department, we can help supply these men needed to make the City "go."

The sidewalks of New York house the establishments of world famous gourmets and couturiers. From the Four Seasons to Lindy's, from Jonathan Logan to Saks, men who are artists in their fields offer us the fruit of their creativity. These individuals would never have achieved success in our fast moving and competitive metropolis without years of extensive training. The Home Economics Department of L.B.H.S. affords its students a complete and comprehensive course in cooking, sewing, interior decorating, and childcare. Although most of these pupils will probably not receive universal fame, they will have the valuable experience needed to manage a happy and successful home.

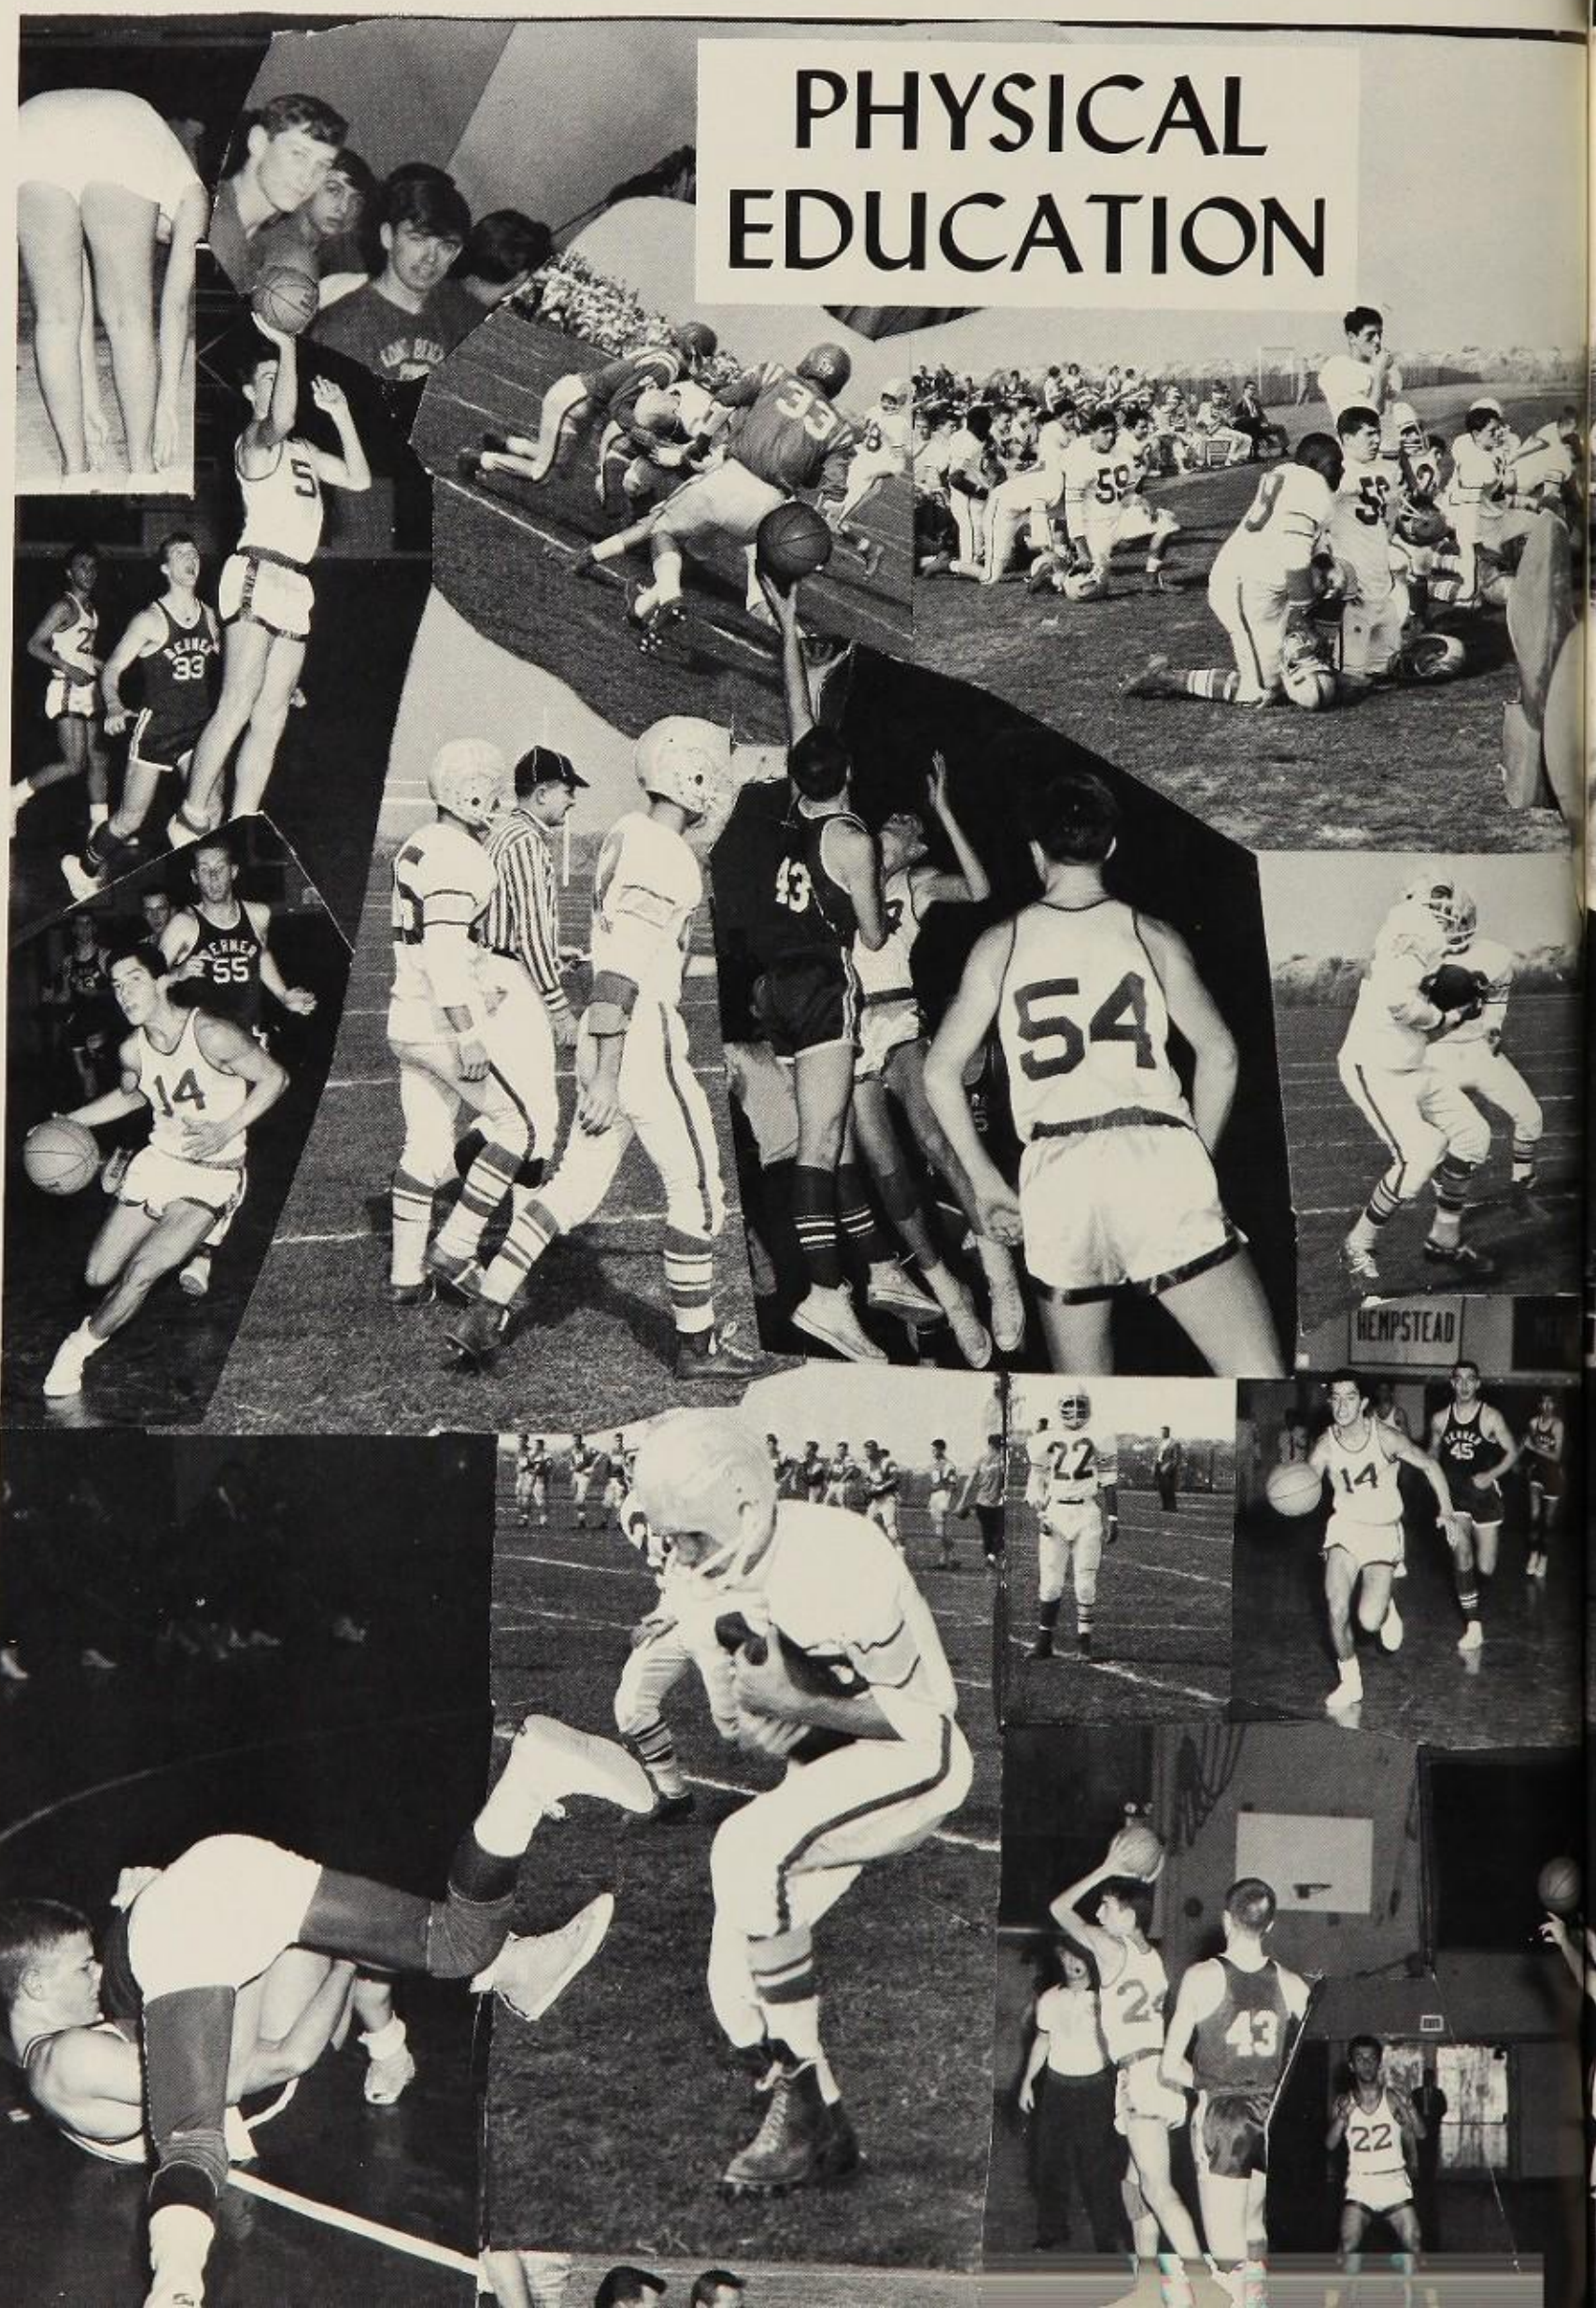
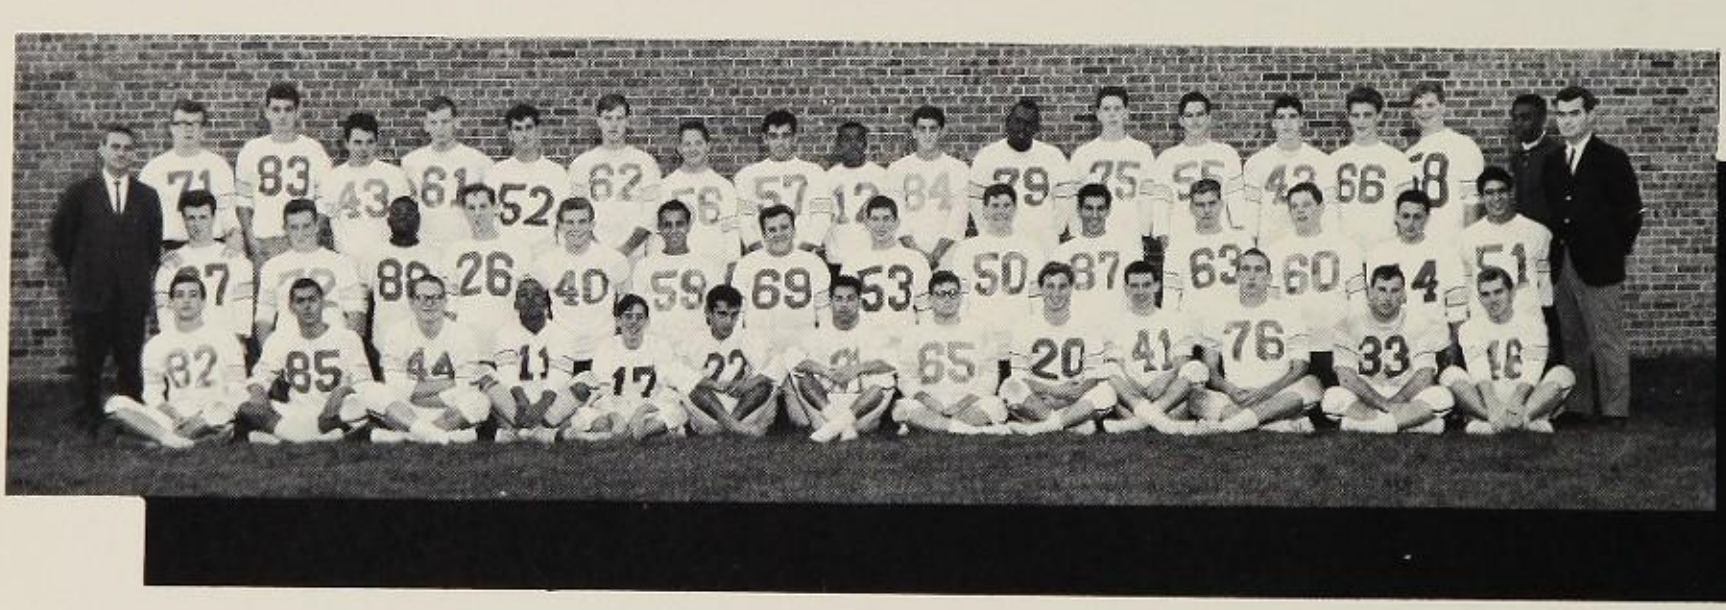
The gun shot, the whistle, the buzzer, the tape, and the perennial clock are all the means by which our performance is measured. No matter how many devices there are, sportsmanship, will, determination and spirit can never be measured in feet or points or seconds. It is the aim of the Physical Education Department to develop in each of its students not only physical skill and ability, but also the qualities of maturity that go into making a well-rounded individual.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION



FOOTBALL

If pride and determination were measured in victories, the Marine gridders would have had an undefeated season. Each Fall day after school, one could see the football team working themselves to exhaustion, preparing for the next game. Each loss made the team more determined to win the next time. No matter what the score was, they never gave up, and when they left the field, they left with pride, knowing that they had done their best. As Coach Tony Piazza said so often, "It is harder to be a good loser than a good winner." This year was also marred by many injuries to key players. All things considered, the fact remains that if spirit was a yardstick for victories, the Marine football team would be a match for the New York Giants.



SOCCER

This year, L.B.H.S. saw the rise of soccer as a major sport, generating more student interest than in any previous year. In most of the contests, the Marines were always within "striking" distance, giving their audience quite a bit of excitement. Characteristic of the soccer team was their thrilling "go for broke" style of play. This brand of play made for a colorful team which constantly attracted avid fans.

TENNIS

Despite the fact that our tennis team played on a court suggestive of the Mojave Desert, they had a winning season. Playing in "clay" courts which turned to mud in the rain and cracked in the sun, the players never gave up. This never-say-die spirit enabled them to win many matches that seemed lost. Mr. Young, the coach, is looking for better courts for next year. Perhaps Forest Hills . . .

WRESTLING

This year marked a definite upgrade in L.B.H.S. wrestling. Despite the fact that we were in one of the toughest leagues in the state, we won many meets and lost others by a close margin, decided only after the last few matches. The members of this team have improved their skills by this experience. This year's team may have laid the foundations for a new L.B.H.S. wrestling dynasty.

RIFLE

Riflery is one of the most unsung of all sports at L.B.H.S. Although the Nimrods did not perform before capacity crowds with screaming cheerleaders, they practice their marksmanship and do their best to win. In practice, riflery is one of the most difficult sports to master. The boys on the Rifle Team deserve credit for putting team loyalty before glory and headlines.

BASKETBALL

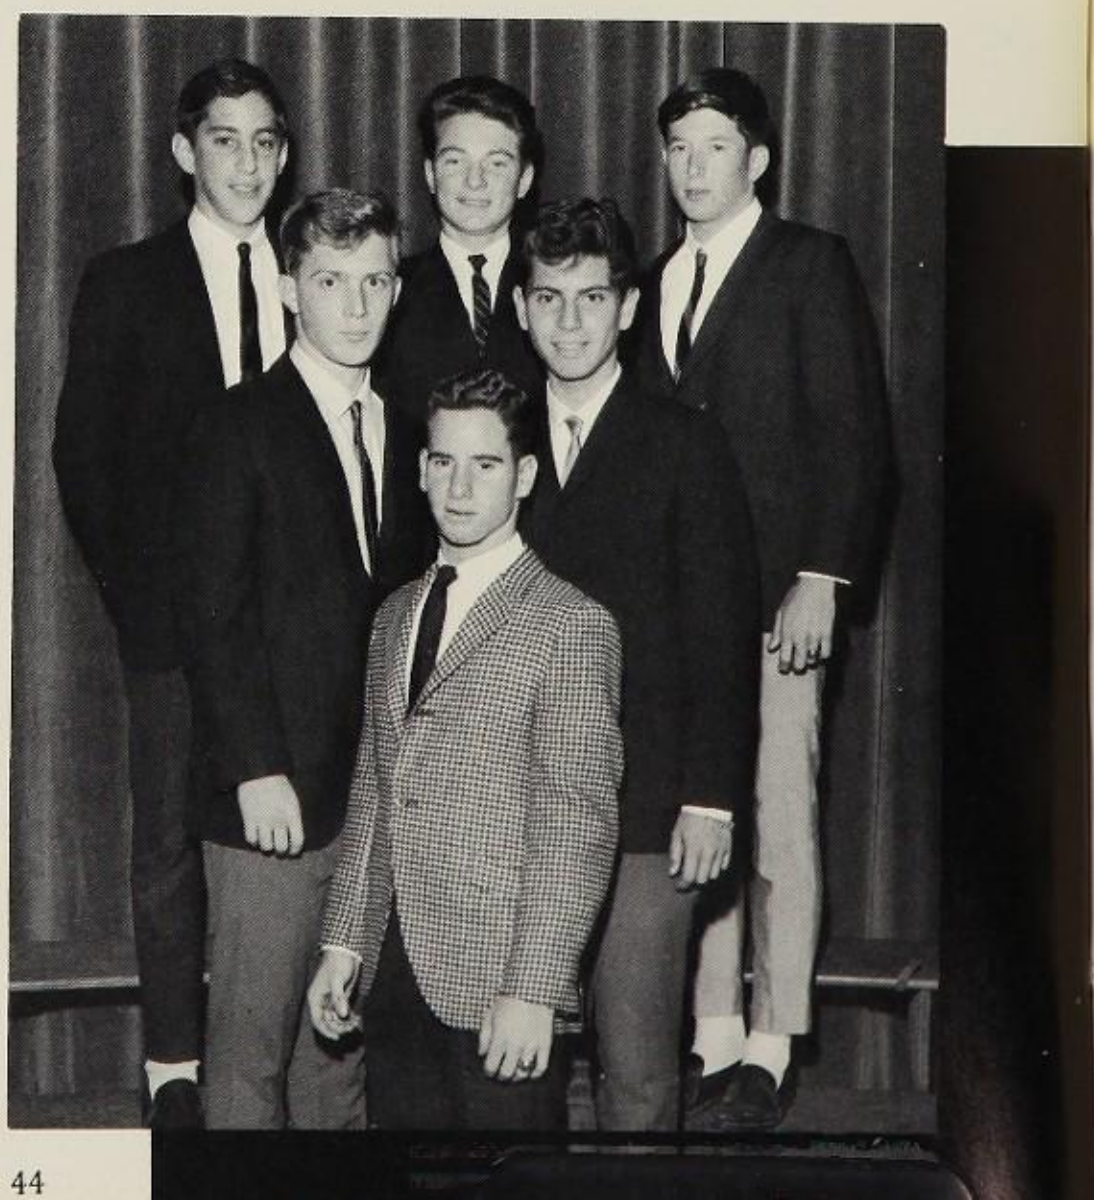
Basketball is a game requiring skills in both the offensive and defensive aspects of play, as well as a good measure of determination and spirit. This year's team, under the guidance of Coach Gene Farry, excels in all of these. Like the New York Knicks, the Marines are a young and somewhat inexperienced team, but make up for this with an enviable display of spirited basketball. With the help and cheers of a loyal contingent of fans, the boys give the more experienced teams in their division an exhibition of enthusiastic play.

SWIMMING

Swimming has become one of our nation's favorite sports. Although the Swimming Team of L.B.H.S. is comparatively new, the boys have gained much valuable experience and have competed successfully during the past year. Mr. Robert Kiernan, the team's coach, has trained the swimmers carefully and has helped in the development of special skills and techniques.

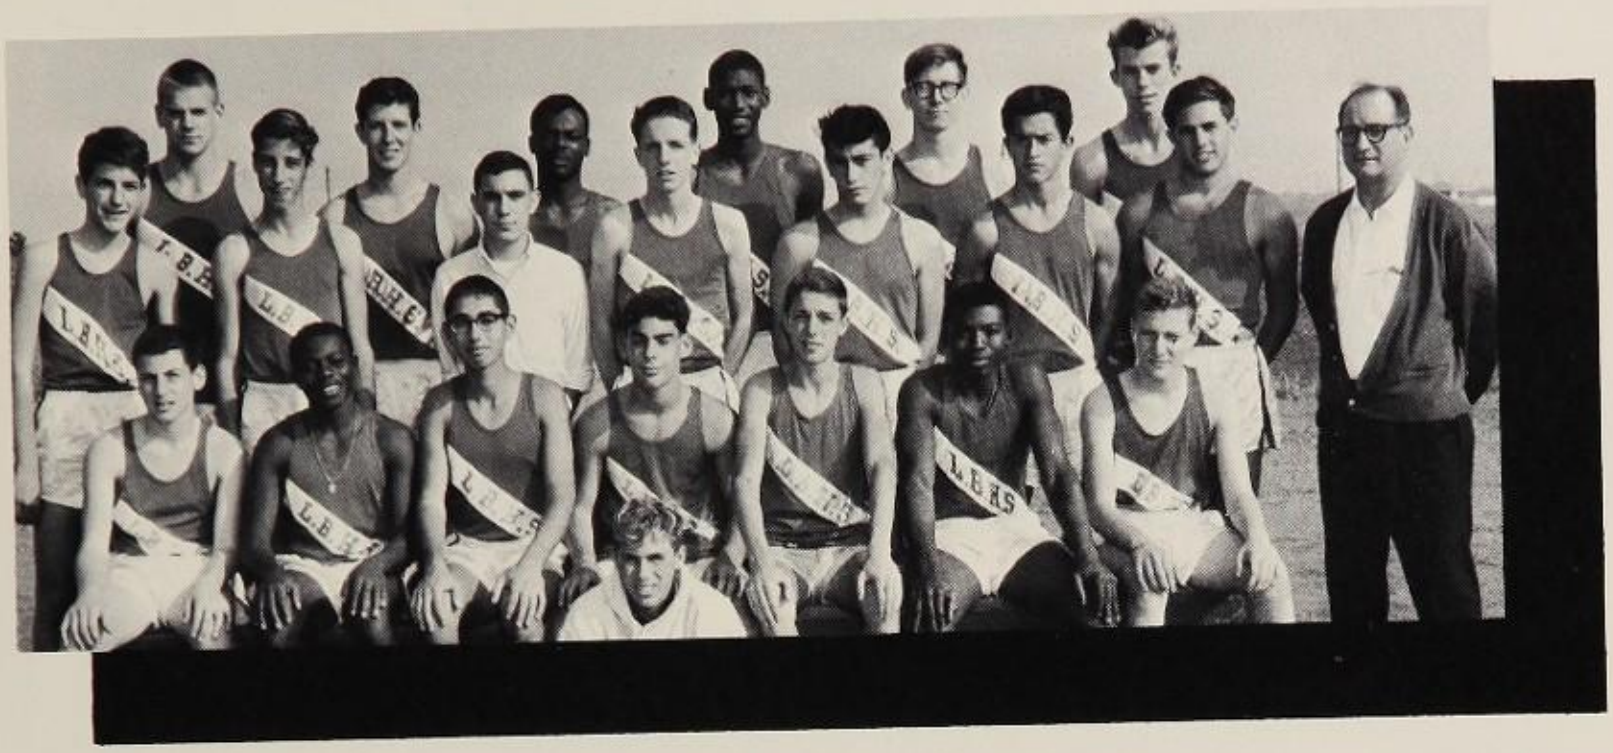
BOWLING

With the sound of a strike, each member of the Bowling Team is reminded that his primary goal is perfection. In this sport, individual excellence is of utmost importance in team accomplishment. Under the guidance of Mrs. Rhoda Grabelsky, the long hours which the bowlers spent in practice resulted in an extremely rewarding team standing.



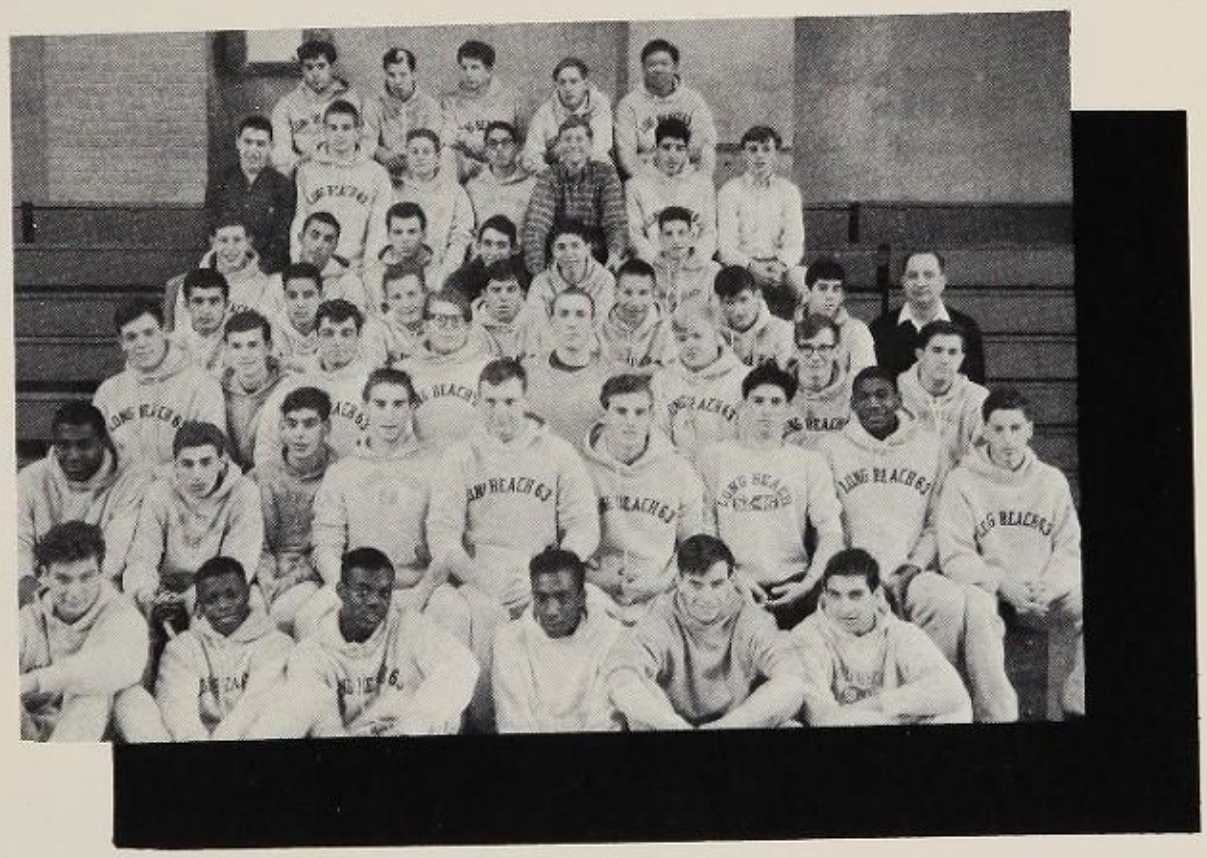
CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country Team



TRACK

The Track Team combines both individual and team efforts in order to produce favorable results. Each member is competing both against the clock and against the other runners. Each event requires speed, coordination, determination and practice. Pushing himself to his physical peak, each member tries to make the season a successful one. This year's Cindermen have made Coach Irving Gold's twentieth year a year which he will always remember.



Track Team

Baseball Team

BASEBALL

Each Spring at L.B.H.S. is accompanied by the crack of a wooden bat meeting a leather baseball. This means that the Marine Baseball Team, under the direction of Mr. Gene Farry, is undergoing extensive training in preparation for their season. The constant chatter one hears both at practice and at the games emphasizes the desire and spirit of the squad. The Marine Baseball Team scores a homerun in being a credit to our school.

L.I.G.A.

L.I.G.A. Seniors

The distaff side of L.B.H.S. prove themselves to be as physically fit as the boys. The Long Island Girls Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Quinn and Mrs. Sapinsky, compete in various inter- and intra-school sports including hockey, basketball, volleyball, and bowling. Outstanding participants are rewarded for their efforts and skills by a banquet given by the Physical Education Department at the close of the school year.

Girls' Hockey Team

MARINETTES

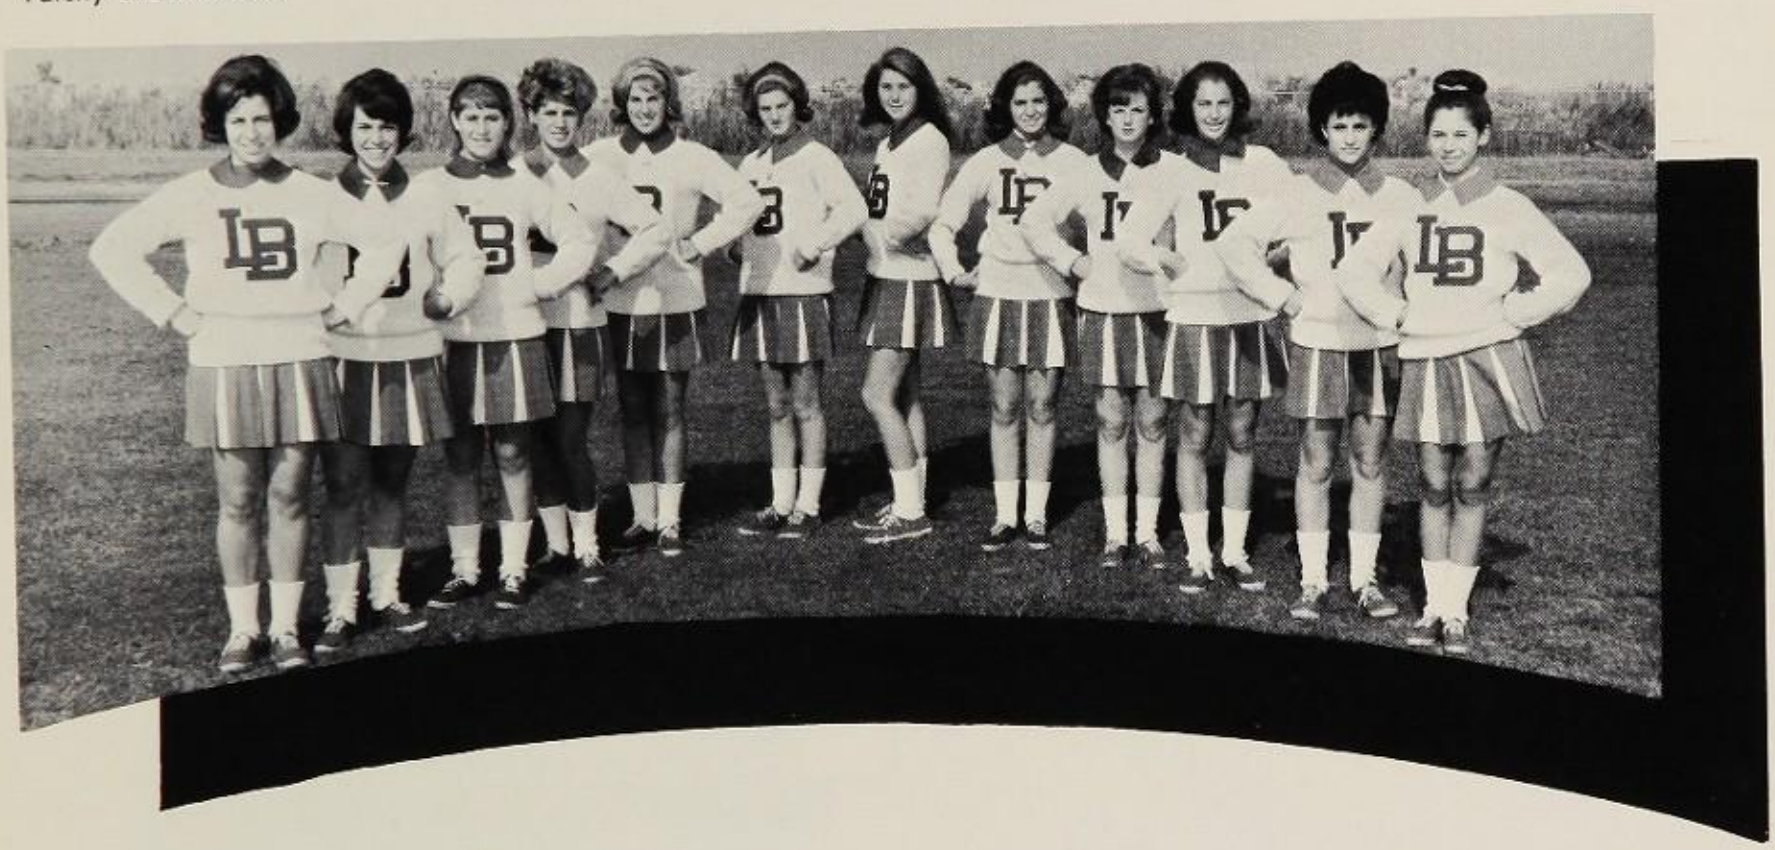
L.B.H.S.'s answer to New York City's Rockettes are their own Marinettes. This group of lively girls perform at the football half-times exhibiting both their talents and their grace. Under the direction of Mrs. Quinn, these students adapt their dance choreography and maintain their poise with the musical rhythm of the band. They are another enjoyable touch to the half-time entertainment.

Marinettes

CHEERLEADERS

Vivacious young ladies bouncing around when the score rises, boosting the team's morale no matter what, and arousing the audience in the stands to take part in rooting their team on to victory, are the L.B.H.S. Cheerleaders under the direction of Mrs. Quinn. The echoing shouts of these girls are always present at sports events regardless of any weather impediment, and that in itself is reason enough to herald praises for this group.

Varsity Cheerleaders

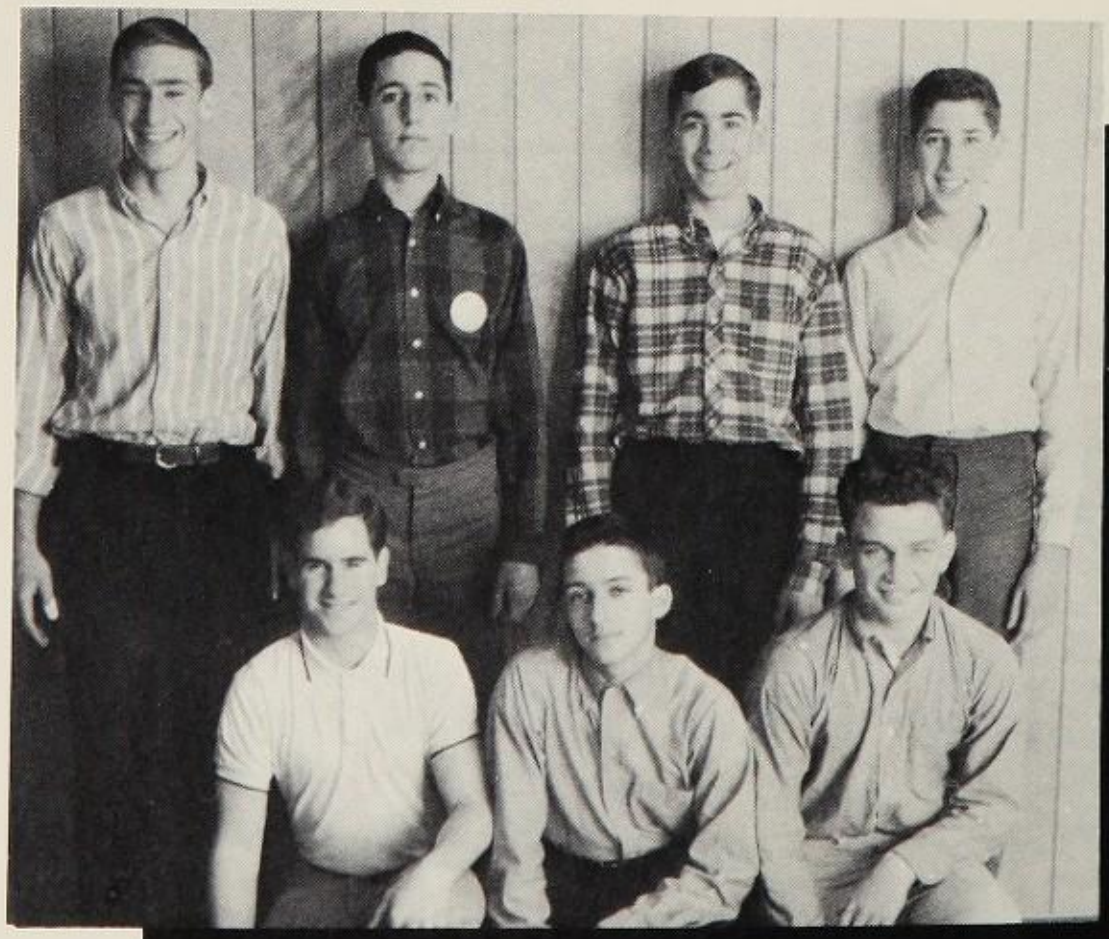


J. V. Cheerleaders

PHYSICAL FITNESS

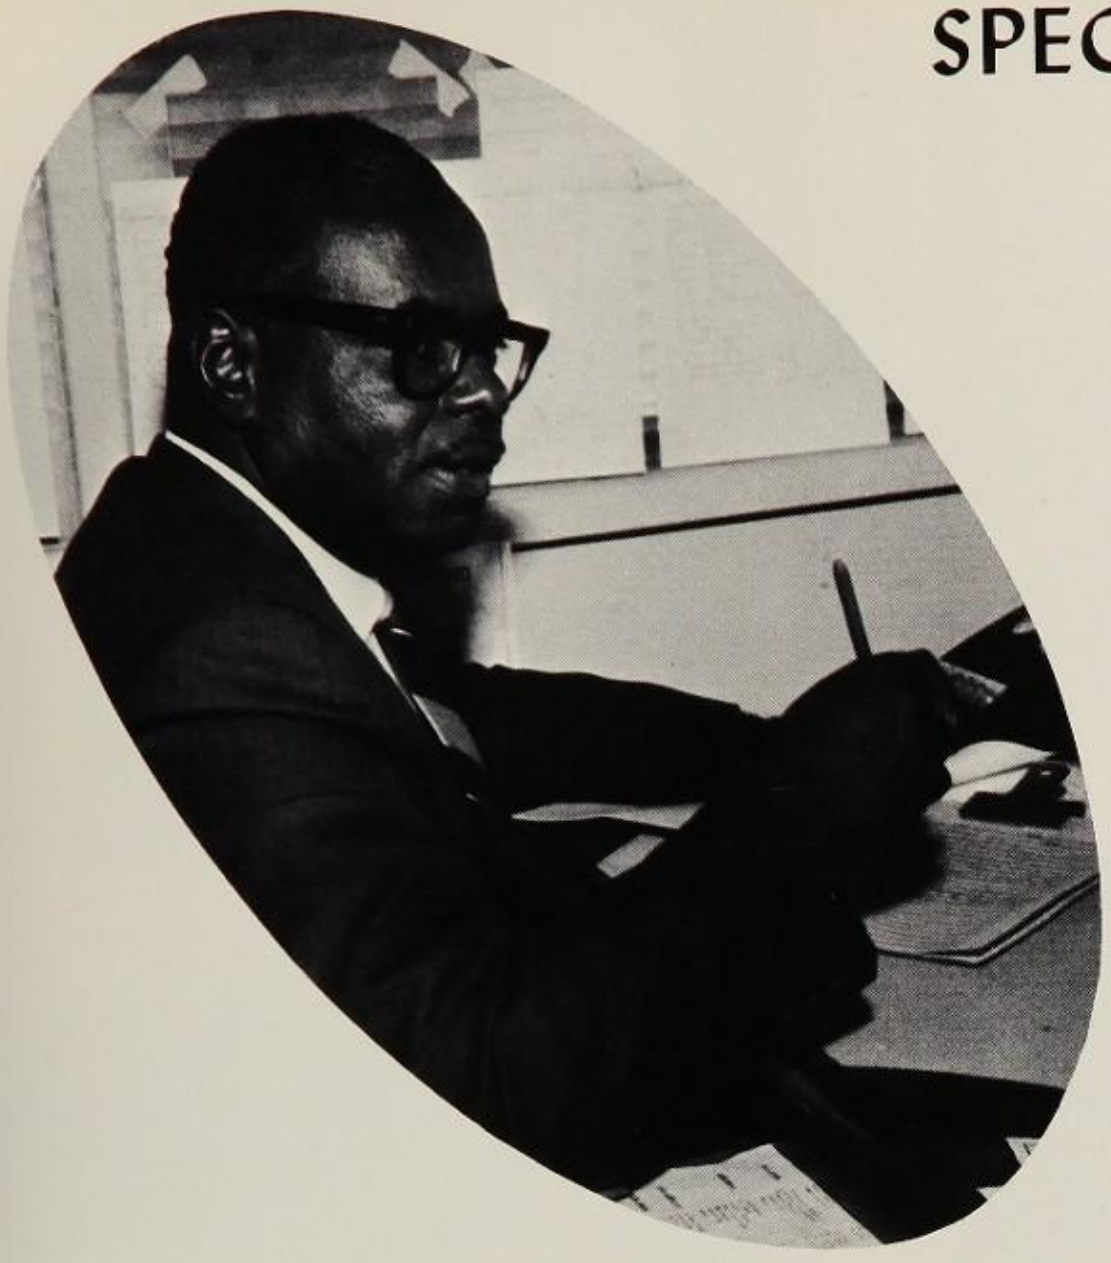
The physical fitness program of John F. Kennedy has left its mark upon our school. Having achieved outstanding scores on the standard physical fitness tests administered by the Physical Education Department, the members of the Physical Fitness Team enter in competition with other schools. This program is evidence that Long Beach High School is aware of the necessity of physical development as well as the development of the intellect.

GOLF



A one time old man's sport, golf is spreading to America's youth. The newly-created Golf Team, under the direction of Mr. Leonard Remo, spends many afternoons developing their skills at the Lido Golf Course. Although L.B.H.S. may not be nuturing future Arnold Palmers or Sam Sneads, it is the intention of the team to realize the exercise and relaxation that can be derived from the sport of golf.

SPECIAL EDUCATION



The director of Special Education, Mr. George Barrett, is dedicated to providing educational opportunities commensurate with the ability of each student, regardless of the disability. Added to that responsibility, Mr. Barrett is also in charge of education for the home-bound students. An un-sung member of the faculty, Mr. Barrett deserves our thanks and and our praise.

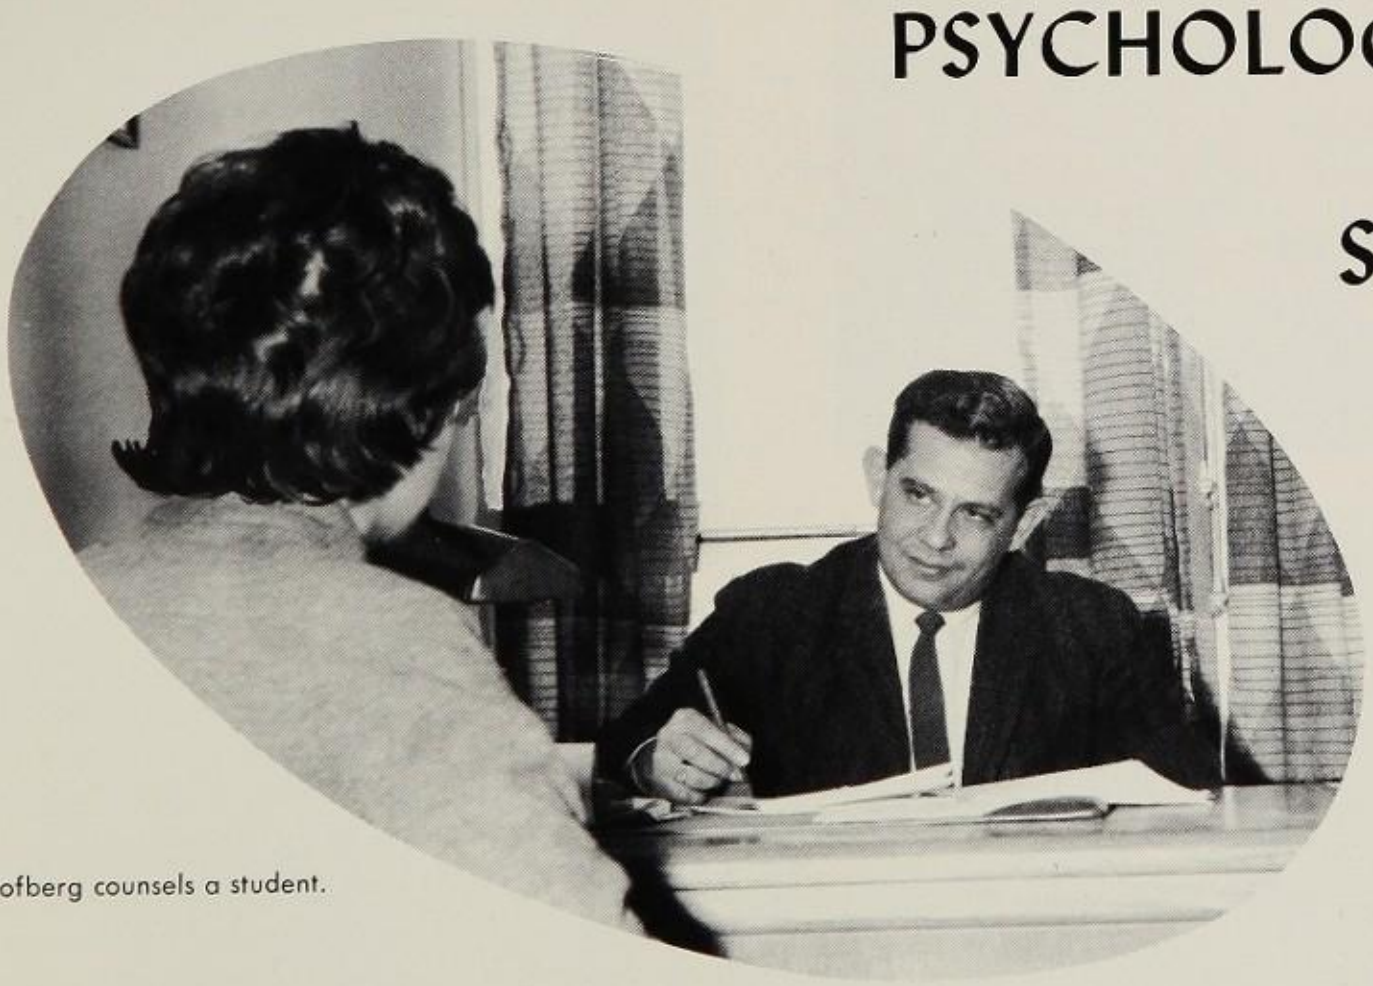
PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES



Dr. Hofberg counsels a student.

The Psychological Services in L.B.H.S. are becoming increasingly important. They help the student with emotional difficulties, in adjusting to their school and social life, and enable him to better enjoy and participate in his present surroundings.

In addition, this service administers examinations to discover an individual's potential and assets. As emotional health is definitely important in a person's development, this additional help that is offered at L.B.H.S. is indeed a worthwhile service.

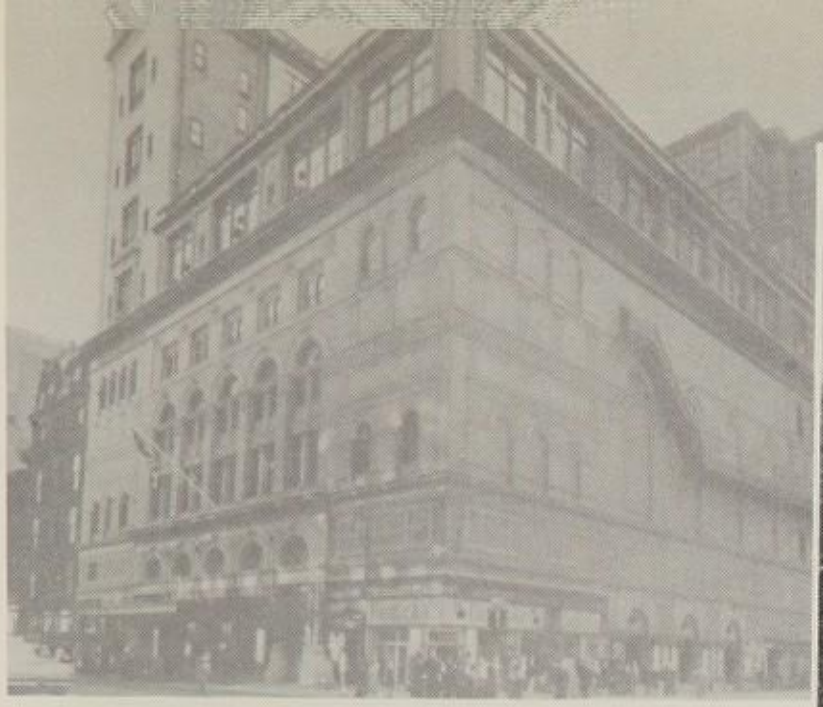
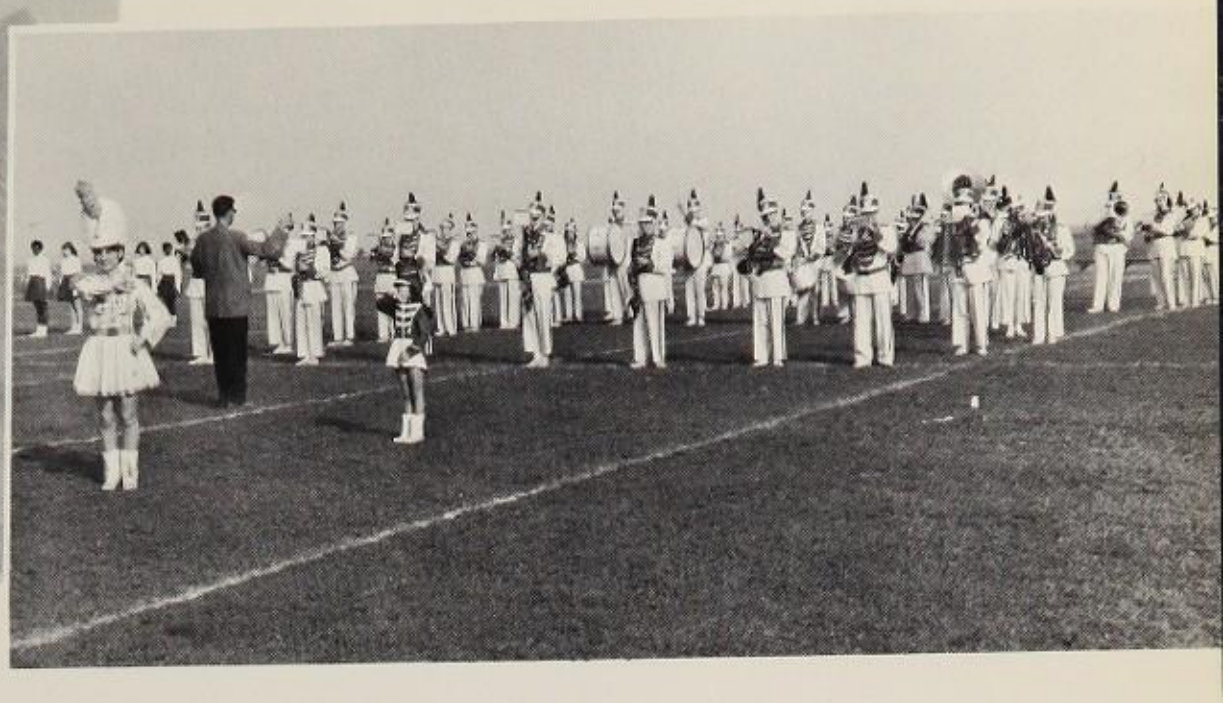
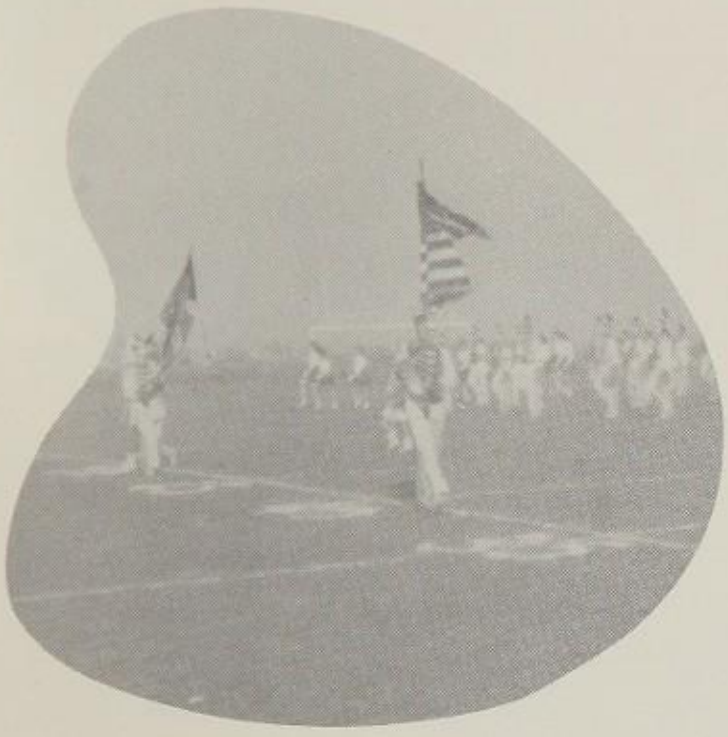
The emotion-rousing combination of tones is the international language of music. Each opera singer dreams of his performance at the Met; each musician hopes to play at Carnegie Hall. But, wherever these gifted people may be, they want to move others by their talent. The LBHS Music Department fosters its students' musical ambitions by making them practice hard and by rewarding them with opportunities, the concerts and the operetta, to transfer some of their energies to their own audiences.



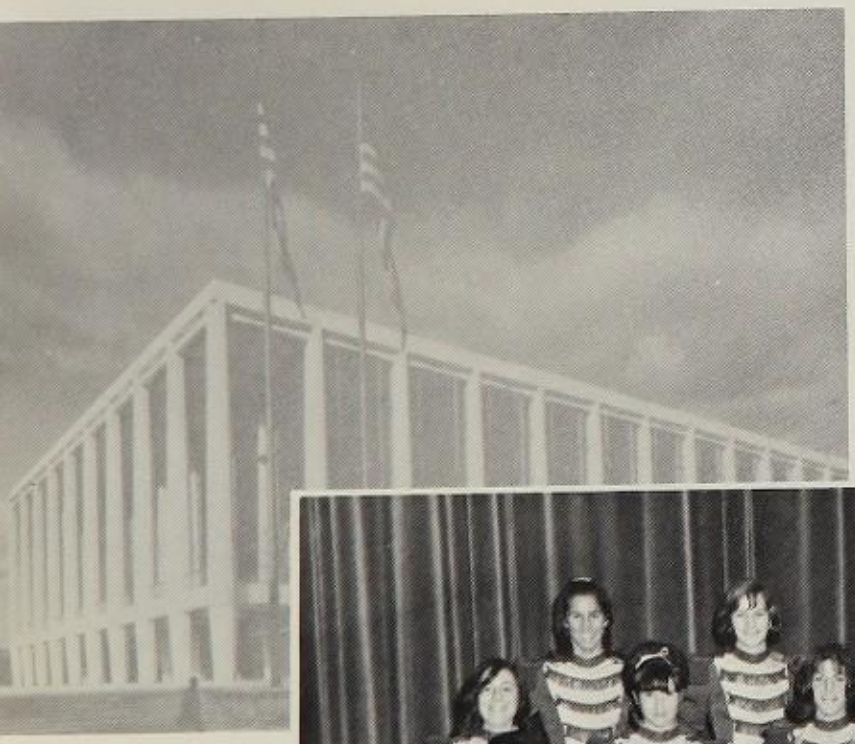


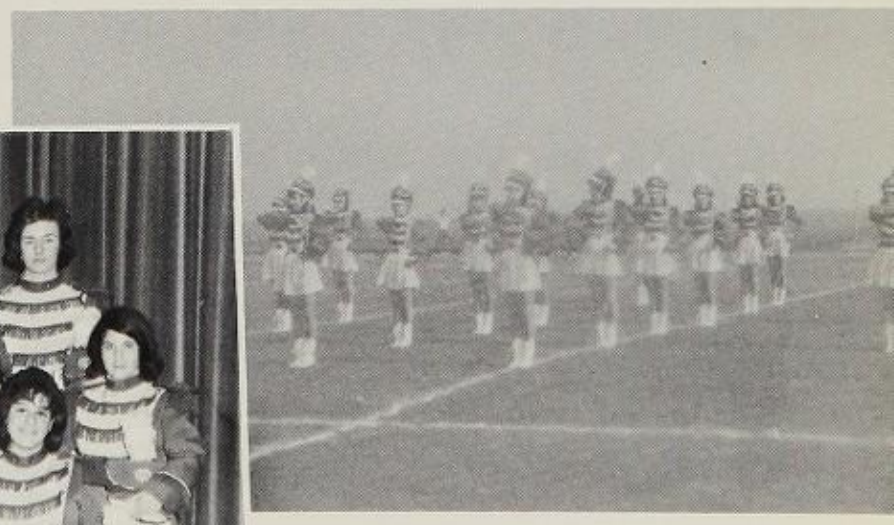


BAND & MAJORETTES

Providing entertainment at half-times, competing in county and intra-school competitions, and performing at various school functions are the major activities of the Band and the Majorettes. The Majorettes are a highly drilled and synchronized group of girls, who, in conjunction with the band, entertain in colorful dance and twirling routines.

The Band itself has enhanced concerts and assemblies throughout the school year with their playing. The Band has been consistently good and is a likely candidate for several awards this year which they have won in the past. Together, they work harmoniously to make the school a more enjoyable place in which to learn.





Orchestra

ORCHESTRA AND CHOIR

Every night, notably on week-ends, the concert halls and auditoriums of New York are filled with music. The Concert Choir of L.B.H.S. allow their voices to blend together to produce melodious and harmonized vocal selections which are annually displayed in the Swing Show and Operetta.

Each musical instrument separately performs his own part which, when combined with the other instruments, forms the brilliant sounds of the Orchestra. Under the instruction of Mr. John Wilson, students study world-renowned composers. In this world of music, the students enlarge their cultural scope and at the same time, offer others an enjoyable sample of their talent.

Concert Choir

Orchestra

Girls shrieked hysterically and fainted from the awe-inspiring sight of Conrad Birdie. Every generation can be identified with its specific "craze" or "idol." The teenagers of today are no exception, having fostered Elvis Presley and the Beatles. This year's operetta, "Bye, Bye, Birdie," was especially significant as a reflection of ourselves. Under the direction of Mr. Michael Maglio, the cast and all those connected with the production surpassed the highest expectations of the student body.

OPERETTA & SWING SHOW

In the booming City, vibrant sounds fill Carnegie Hall. The L.B.H.S. auditorium soaks up similar sounds each Spring at the Swing Show—talented student performers sing, dance and "swing" with instrumental arrangements. Selected by Mr. Glenn Brown, these acts represent the youth's avid enthusiasm in the World of Music.

Attendance Office

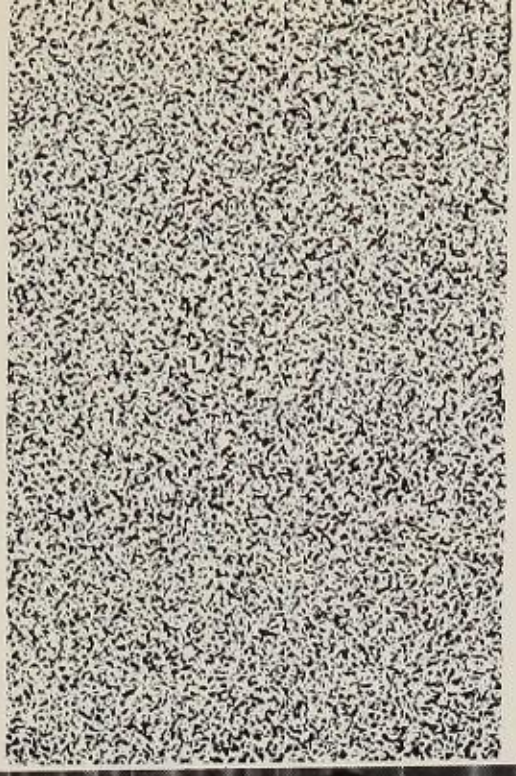
Mr. Popper, several teachers, and a select number of students comprise a staff which is entrusted with a great responsibility. This much needed Attendance Office has the job of seeing that all absences, lateness and misdemeanors are accounted for and rectified. With this assistance, L.B.H.S. is able to run efficiently and with a necessary amount of discipline.

OFFICE STAFFS

Colds, headaches, sore throats—the common complaints of 1400 high school students—are all brought to the school nurses. To alleviate this huge burden of work, the nurses of L.B.H.S. are assisted by a number of student aides. By doing the paper work, by bringing notices to the classrooms, and by keeping the Health Office in order, they make the difficult task of the nurses a great deal easier.

Health Office

In keeping the correspondence, paper work, and organization of the school running smoothly, Miss Haberman, Mrs. Hirsch, and Mrs. Rose are aided by a number of student assistants. These girls help with the typing, filing, mimeographing, and various other office procedures. Not only do they perform a great service for the school, but also they gain valuable experience in secretarial and office work.



High School Office

The duties of the Guidance Department are too numerous to be handled by the counselors themselves. The paper work, handling of appointments, and filing are done by students who have volunteered their services. Their diligent work makes the heavy burden of the guidance counselors a bit lighter and it helps the administration make high school a happier place for its students.

Organization—a tool for achievement. As the backbone of student government, the G.O. encompasses many areas of student activity. In addition to maintaining a G.O. store and Book Nook, the organization plans student dances, boosts student spirit, arranges student tutoring and supports Minh, a young Vietnamese girl. Stemming from this vital core, all school functions radiate, representing the image of the many faceted learning process.

Future Physicians of America

Future Nurses of America

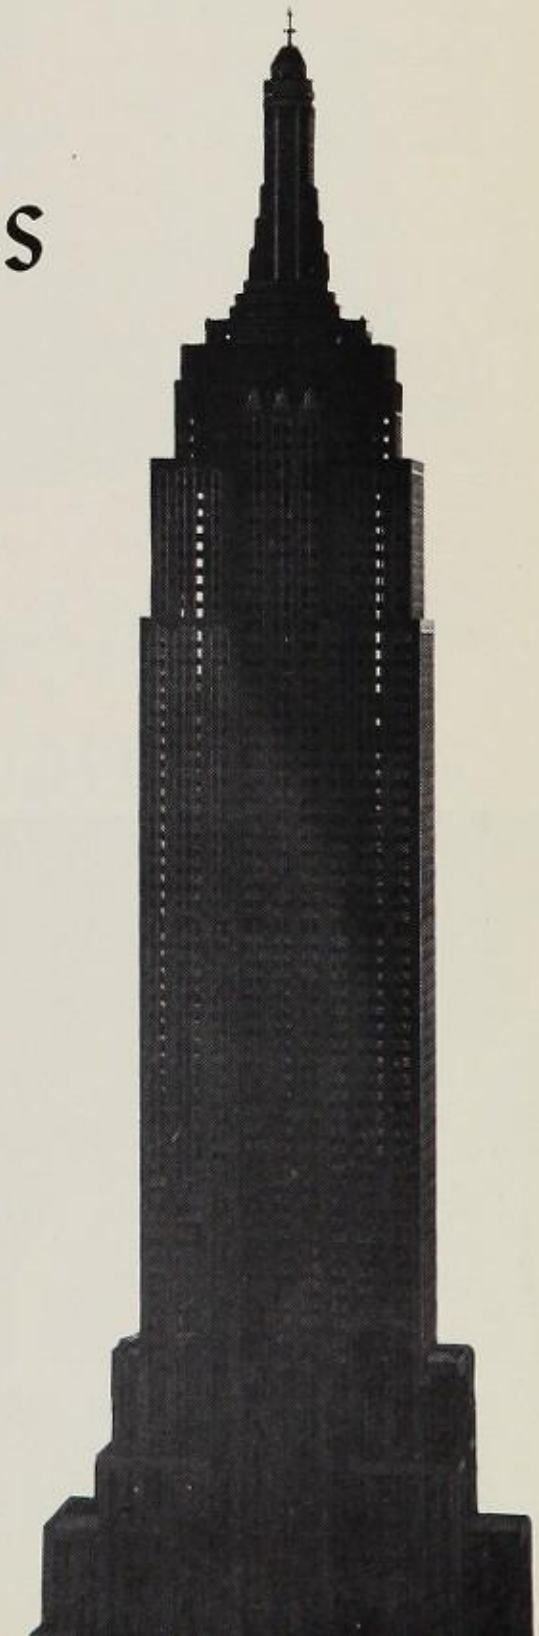
Future Teachers of America

n every corner of the city, highly skilled men and women earn their livings at their own chosen professions. Because we have these competent doctors, architects, teachers, nurses, lawyers, and accountants, New York continues to flourish. In L.B.H.S., we begin preparing ourselves for and familiarizing ourselves with our chosen professions in the various "future"clubs. By discussions, lectures, films and trips, the members learn more about their selected field or gain enough information to decide upon one. Thus, when the functioning of the city is our responsibility, we will be ready for it.

CAREER CLUBS

Future Accountants of America

Future Lawyers of America



FOREIGN STUDENTS CLUB

When people from foreign countries arrive in New York City, they find some difficulty in understanding American culture. Established and presided over by Nesim Pinto of Turkey, the Foreign Students Club of Long Beach High School has been instituted this year to help such students. Its object, as stated in its constitution, is "to learn from people of other countries and to improve understanding between foreigners and Americans."

The Key Club is an organization of boys who give of themselves to help others who are less fortunate. Their field of activities ranges from swimming instruction for the retarded, to a door to door Christmas campaign in order to raise money for needy organizations. The very existence of this group is a tribute to L.B.H.S. for the developing of such outstanding students.

KEY CLUB

CHESS CLUB

Mental accuracy, infinite patience, and a skillful eye are necessary ingredients for the chess player. Under the leadership of Mr. Wolsky, chess enthusiasts are provided with the opportunity to engage in chess matches in the L.B.H.S. Chess Club. At the word "Checkmate" the match is completed and the members of this club anxiously await the next game where they may exhibit their improved talent in this hobby.

AUDIO-VISUAL SQUAD

Movies and recordings mean more than Broadway, the entertainment center of the world. They mean a better education, for they make the educational material more conceptual, alive, meaningful; they add a fresh dimension to our modes of learning. However, it requires careful organization and much work to make films and recordings accessible. This is the essential service rendered by Mr. Hammer and his staff on the Audio-Visual Squad.

COLOR GUARD

Color Guard

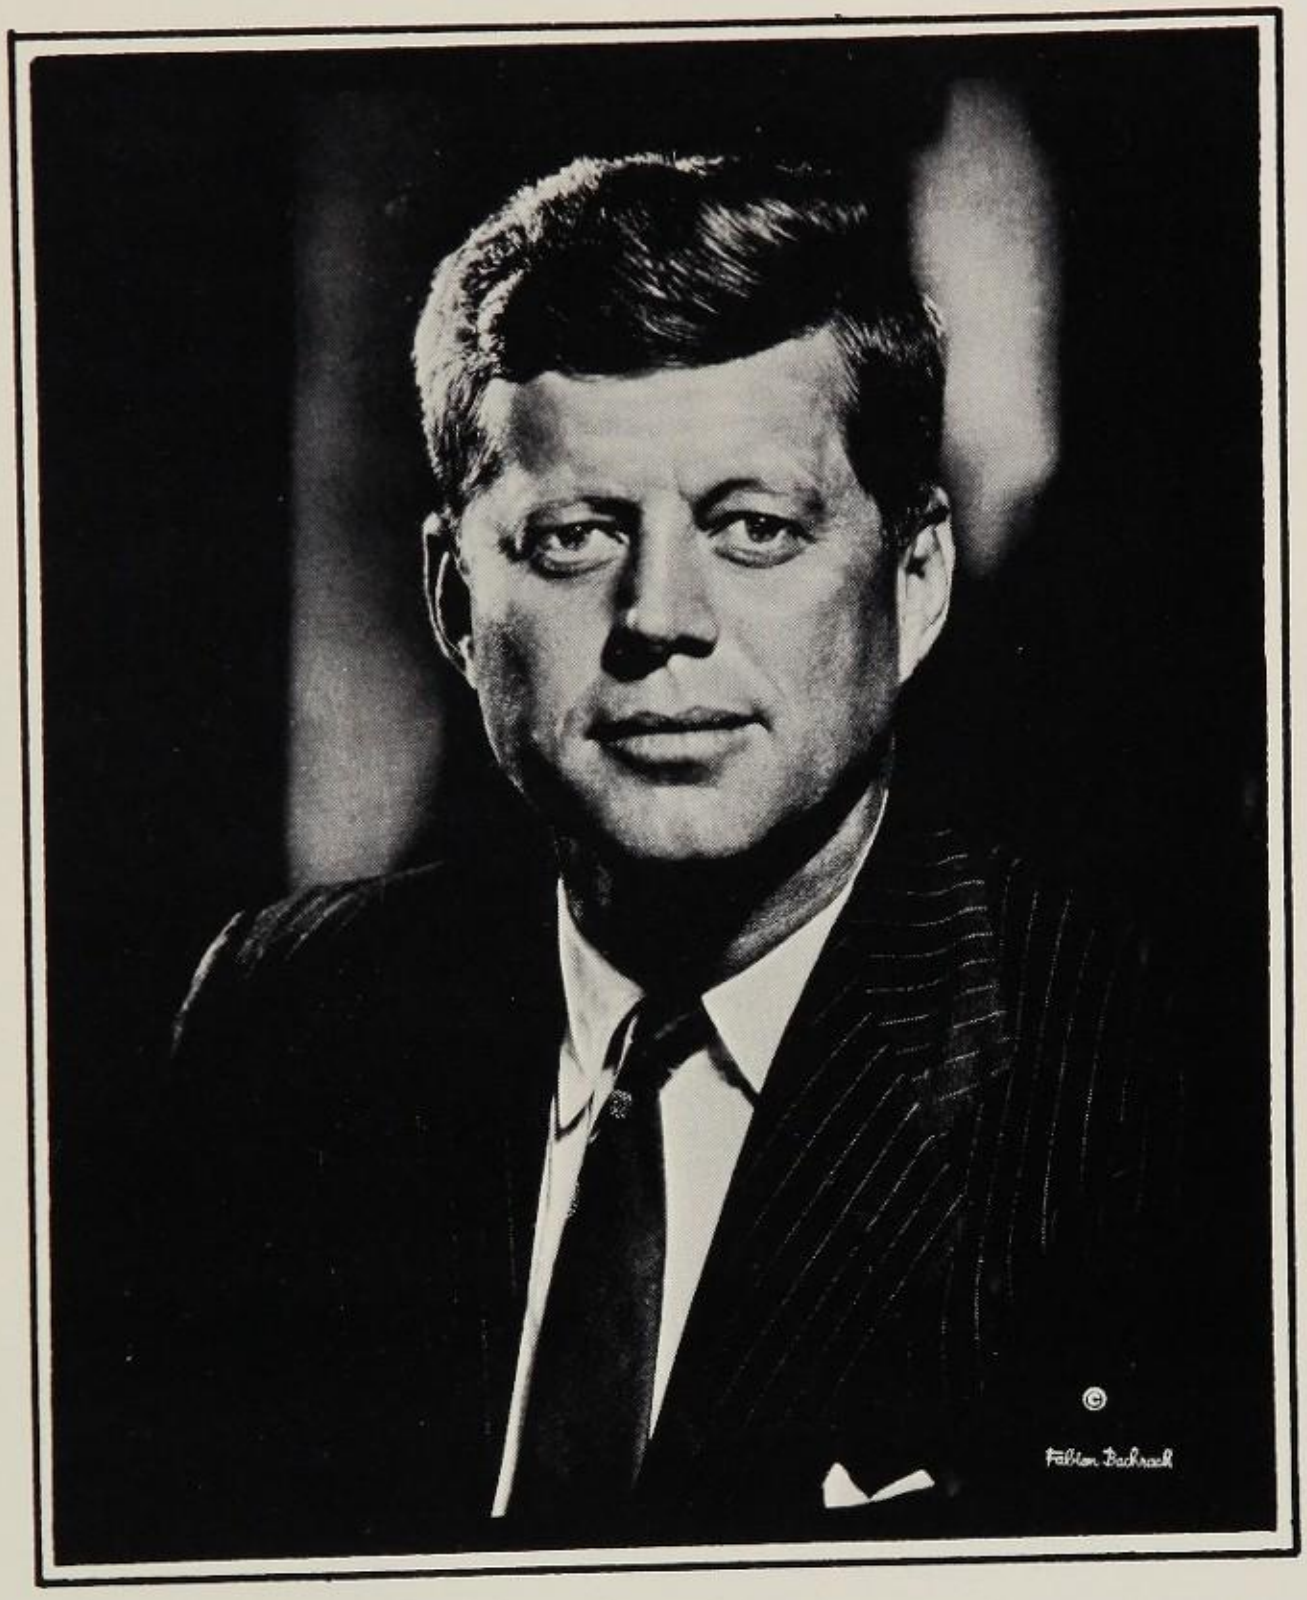
A flag is a banner which represents the pride and dignity of a nation and its people. As we walk along East River Drive, we can observe the many flags of the United Nations flying from the United Nations building. In our school, we give our flag the honor of being entrusted to a Color Guard Squad. Mr. Howard Greenberg selects a group of young ladies to be members of this honored organization. Their presence as standard bearers lends an air of respect to our school functions.

Arista

ARISTA

Effort and skill, combined, not only affect an individual's progress, but also provide the necessary sources for the betterment of the City and the society. Each year, students whose grades evidence superior scholastic achievement are inducted into Arista, the L.B.H.S. branch of the National Honor Society. The members of this honorary association hold various functions, run cake sales, make an annual trip to Albany, and offer some worthy student a scholarship to be used to further his education.

In Memorium



JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

All generous hearts lament the leader killed,
The young chief with the smile, the radiant face,
The winning way that turned a wondrous race
Into sublimer pathways, leading on.
Grant to us life that though the man be gone
The promise of his spirit be fulfilled.

THE SENIOR PLAY

The call "Curtain Going up" brought Broadway to Long Beach High School on November 29 and 30, 1963. The Senior Class production was "The Curious Savage," a comedy by John Patrick about an eccentric woman with $10,000,000 to spend and her three step children and their devious attempts to obtain her money. Directed by Mr. Burton Wolsky, the play starred Nancy Edelsohn, Ivan Schaeffer, Sherry Pollack, James Eisenberg, Cathy Sheldon, Sion Mitrany, Judi Rosenthal, Frank Dorf, David Fersh, Susan N. Herman, and Sara Ain. These talented thespians kept the audience in stitches during both performances and made the Senior Play of the Class of 1964 a production which both cast, director, and student body will long remember.
